WITHDRAWS NOMINATIONS

Lawmakers Quibble On Techni-

Washington—President Coolidge has served notice on the senate that he does not intend to be intimidated in the making of executive appointments by senatorial influences.

The abrupt action of the president in withdrawing from the senate two nominations which had been favorably acted upon because the senate commerce committee had rendered an adverse report on another nomination—all three for the United States Shipping Board—has behind it more than appears on the surface.

Chairman Edward Farley of the shipping board has been the center of attack for several weeks from different quarters. It was he who refused to permit the managing operators to continue their famous "M.
O.-4" contract whereby their commissions for operating government vessels were deducted from gross receipts irrespective of whether the government actually made a profit.

It was he who further incurred the antagonism of ship operators by declining to recommend a plan whereby the government fleet would be sold at nominal rates or leased contracts that would permit private interests to build up their own business with government capital back of them.

BLUNT BUSINESSMAN

Mr. Farley has not been the most tactful person by any means in handling congress, but men who come to Washington from the business world are accustomed to blunt and direct methods rarely are as suave as the persons who have been bred in the political atmosphere.

All this may or may not have had something to do with the adverse report of the senate committee on commerce—the president doesn't know.
But Mr. Coolidge has forced the fight into the open. The senate committee said its objection to Mr. Farley was the fact that he had been reported from the Great Lakes region where another man, T. V. O'Connor, was already serving on the board and

RUSS WON'T MEET IN SWITZERLAND

Tchitcherine Objects To Acquitality Of Swiss Slayers Of Envoy

By Associated Press
Geneva—Foreign Minister Tchitcherine of Soviet Russia, replying to the invitation by the league of nations to send Soviet experts to the international naval commission meeting in Geneva in January, has declared that agreements to the eastern nations, declared the Soviet government was ready to send naval experts to collaborate in disarmament consultations upon condition that the commission did not meet within Swiss territory.

M. Tchitcherine added that after the murder of Vasili Vorovsky, Soviet envoy to the second Lausanne conference, Switzerland had made no representation to Russia and declared that the acquisition of the Swiss coast by Maurice Conradi and Paul Polonine as principal and accomplice respectively, in the assassination of Vorovsky, was an encouragement to further acts of violence.

FORD SUPPORT MIGHT DAMAGE CAL'S CAUSE

Bryan Says Auto Magnates Desertion Of Common People Will Bring Reaction

By Associated Press
Miami Fla.—William Jennings Bryan, candidate for delegate to the national Democratic convention from this state, issued a statement Friday in regard to Henry Ford's endorsement of President Coolidge in which he states that the reaction will hurt
Coolidge instead of helping him.

The statement follows:
"The first impression made by Mr.
Ford's statement probably will be favorable to President Coolidge's candidacy, but the reaction is likely to prove a damaging blow to the president."

"Mr. Ford has been talked of as the candidate of the masses, his support coming from both Democrats and Republicans who interpreted his candidacy as a protest against the reactionary policies of most of the Republican leaders and some of the Democratic leaders. Mr. Ford, as the millionaire champion of the poor people of the country, would make an excellent spectacle. But Mr. Ford loses his prominence when he joins with the rest of the big business men in support of a reactionary candidate."

CREATES IRRITATION

"He will not carry with him any of the plutocrats because they are already supporting Mr. Coolidge; the president's opposition to the excess profits tax made some of their supporters but Mr. Ford's desertion message will create an irritation that will be more pronounced as the campaign approaches. The men who have difficulty in keeping their household expenditures within their incomes, the men, as a rule buy Ford cars, will resent the abandonment of their cause by one of the richest men in the country whom they regarded mistakenly, it now seems—as their friend and President Coolidge will find Mr.
Ford the most expensive booster who has yet climbed into the band wagon; his action emphasizes the deepening division between those with big incomes and those with small incomes."

ARNOLD ACCEPTS NORTHSHORE POST

Manager Of Oshkosh Rail Properties Takes Position
In Milwaukee

Oshkosh—B. W. Arnold, manager of the railway properties of the Eastern Wisconsin Electric Co., for the last six years with headquarters here, will leave on Jan. 1 for Milwaukee, where he will become manager of the motor coach department of the Chicago North Shore and Milwaukee railroad, known as the Northshore line.
This railway operates some 50 coaches and busses in southern Wisconsin and northern Illinois and plans are being made for the acquisition of several vehicles.

One of the activities will be weekly pleasure trips through picturesque parts of Wisconsin. M. H. Frank of Fond du Lac has been appointed as manager of the railroad department of the Eastern Wisconsin and operation of the local street car and interurban system will be in charge of A. M.
Farley who has been assistant to Mr.
Arnold.

DENIES NEW TRIAL IN FATAL ACCIDENT

Free Lake—Judge Foley has denied a new trial to C. O. Roeder, following the verdict of the jury. The defendant was sentenced to one year and one day at Waupun. The jury had found Roeder guilty of fourth degree manslaughter because the fatal accident on the Cameron road last August when his brother, Neils Roeder, was instantly killed, and James E. Carter was fatally injured.

Judge Foley granted Roeder a 20-day stay of execution, and in the meantime it is likely that an appeal will be made to the supreme court.

Noted Belgian Won't Use Pen To Aid Germans

By Associated Press
Brussels—Maurice Maeterlinck, receiving a request from the Berliner Tageblatt for a message for its Christmas number which is to be printed in the interests of the starving intellectuals of Germany, sent the following reply, a copy of which he gave to the newspaper La Sor.

"You do not seem to realize that I am a Belgian and that it is impossible for me to forget. How could I fail to remember among other crimes, the odious manifesto of those intellectuals for whom you today ask my support? When Germany shall have repaired a part of the evil she has wrought, I might."

"But I do not forgive, for there are some things beyond forgiveness. I at least try to throw a veil which will always be transparent all over memories which will only fade out with my life."

GEORGIA KLAN SLAYER GIVEN LIFE SENTENCE

Fox Takes Verdict Calmly; May File Motion For New Trial

By Associated Press
Atlanta, Ga.—Attorneys for Philip
E. Fox, former editor of the Night Hawk, Ku Klux Klan official organ, who Friday night was found guilty of first degree murder for the fatal shooting of William S. Coburn, Klan attorney, by a jury in Fulton co. superior court, were expected to file a motion for a new trial Saturday.

The jury, after deliberating all day returned a verdict of guilty with recommendation for mercy which au-tomatically fixed a penalty of life imprisonment. Fox talked in Columbia hall at the afternoon of Nov.
8 and shot the attorney to death.

While the hearing on the motion is pending, it was said Fox will be held in Fulton tower. Fox took the verdict more calmly than had been expected. While he was extremely narrow during the trial, Fox maintained a disseminated attitude during the eight days the trial lasted, scarcely speaking to his attorneys during the entire proceedings.

Jailer H. C. McCall said that both Fox and his wife appeared to be well pleased with verdict.

ENGINEER KILLED IN LIMITED WRECK

Marietta, Ga.—Engineer J. W.
Brown was killed and two members of the crew were slightly injured when the Dixie limited of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railroad was wrecked at Kennesaw near here Saturday morning. The engine turned over and the baggage car and two

H. L. Young, fireman, and J. M.
Baldwin, brakeman, received cuts and bruises but not serious enough to require hospital treatment. Fireman Young jumped from the cab when the engine turned over. The train was southbound from Chicago to Jacksonville. It was running about 13 miles an hour at the time of the accident.
Traffic will be tied up for five or six hours, officials of the road said. Some of the passengers were shaken up but none was hurt.

casual interest. The woman suddenly

Investigator Of Twentieth Century Wrecks Suspects Men-

By Associated Press
Albany, N. Y.—Elimination of the grade crossing at Foreyth, N. Y., at which the wreck of the New York Central twentieth century limited occurred, Dec. 9, resulting in the deaths of nine persons, and installation of automatic train control devices, are advised by the public service commission in its report made public Friday following investigation of the fatal crash. After reviewing details of the disaster, C. R. Vanecko, chief engineer of the commission, who conducted the investigation stated that more severe physical examinations should be made before train crews were allowed on the road. This belief he based on the theory that the engineer's failure to observe the danger signals may have resulted from a temporary mental lapse.

CASHIER OFFERS FORTUNE TO OFFSET IRREGULARITY

St. Louis, Mo.—Joseph S. Carr, whose irregularities as cashier of the Chippewa bank of this city, amounting to a late estimate of more than $200,000 caused the closing of its doors Friday, pledged assets Friday night valued by him at more than $1, 000,000 to protect the depositors of the bank, who he said, "must lose not a cent through any fault of mine."

Aged Chicago Peddler Is Heir To Big Fortune

By Associated Press
Chicago—Henri De La Motte, 70 years old, heir to a third of a large fortune in France, according to his daughter in New York, prepared Saturday to do a rushing business in pencil sharpeners. He had been missing for 20 years until recently located here.

News of the fortune came Friday night in a dispatch from New York in which Mrs. Harriet Scott, the daughter, said she was starting for Chicago to visit her long lost father and intended going to France to claim the fortune for him.

Friday night reporters found him in the cathedral shelter home and told him that his daughter was coming to visit him. Dispatches from New York had told how Mrs. Scott said that when she was a little girl in Milwaukee she had unknowingly torn up a will telling of the estate in France.
"I have known for years I was an heir to that estate, but I'm interested in 'when do I get it,'" remarked the old man. "Just now I'd rather have $3 in this wrinkled old hand of mine than all the promises of a for-

RELATIVES IN GREEN BAY

Milwaukee—Mrs. Edwin Milbradt, Milwaukee, granddaughter, and Mrs.
Fred Leiden, Green Bay, daughter of Henry De La Motte 74-year-old Chicago peddler, reported in news dispatches as being a long lost heir to the estate of his deceased parents in France, were preparing to leave here Saturday for a visit with the elderly man in Chicago. De La Motte is said to have deserted his wife and family here 25 years ago, following a quarrel with an uncle, then mayor of Racine. The daughter has not seen her father since his disappearance.
All members of the family in the vicinity are looking forward to pressing every angle of the claims, and they anticipate a family reunion Christmas day, after a lapse of a quarter of a century.

The aged wife of De La Motte lives with Mrs. Leiden in Green Bay, it is reported. Mrs. J. Barton and Mrs. Albert Mayou, daughters of Mrs. Leiden reside in Green Bay. A sister of Mrs. Leiden, Mrs. Alex Legarde, also resides there.

Weather Man Hints At Snow For Christmas

It will probably be white Christmas after all, to which all pessimists will say, "I told you this weather wouldn't last." The weather man forecasts rain or snow for the eastern portions of Wisconsin and that means Appleton. Now that the shortest day of the year is past and the sun commences its backward swing thereby suggesting the return of spring, this community is due for a frost and snowfall. Although this is bad news to motorists, there are not a few who would feel rather lonesome without the least semblance of winter at Christmas. One year ago the thermometer registered 11 degrees below zero, but Friday it recorded as high as 50 above, which probably was a record for December. It appears that Santa Claus will have to use his reindeers after all instead of the flivver.

BADGER M'ADOO BACKERS START STATE BATTLE

Seek Support Of Rail Brother-hoods And Democrats Listed As Dries

By Associated Press
Milwaukee—The campaign of William G. McAdoo for the Democratic nomination for president will be formally launched Saturday night in Wisconsin when McAdoo adherents will convene at a banquet to be given at a city club.

Present at the meeting will be Judge David Rockwell, Chicago, western manager for the candidate. He is expected to outline the principal points of the McAdoo platform and the national program of campaign. Following his discourse there is indication that an organization will be formed with working committees in every county in the state.

Judge Rockwell arrived in the city shortly after noon and was greeted at luncheon by the Democratic leaders.
During the afternoon he conferred with leaders of that faction interested in the success of the McAdoo boom.
The luncheon was given under the auspices of the Bankers' Finance corporation of which H. A. Moehlenpach, active in the Democratic party here is the managing spirit.

SEEK DRY SUPPORT

In well informed political circles here Saturday it was said the McAdoo hinterers in Wisconsin were inviting the support of the railroad brother-hoods and all Democrats listed as dries.

While Smith-Underwood Democrats are also exerting themselves in Wisconsin, it is generally conceded that McAdoo will draw heavily from the ranks of the organization heads of the party in this state and that a large portion of the rank and file of the party is with him.

A disturbing factor of the opening days of the Democratic campaign in Wisconsin comes to light in what appears to be a well defined plan of the wet Democrats to make a strong bid for control of the party machine.
One result of the meeting Saturday night is expected to be sharper defining of the issues as between factions of the party.

CHURCH FACTIONS END SCISM FIGHT

By Associated Press
New York—Modernists in the Protestant Episcopal church Saturday declared the pre-holiday sermons they would preach for Sunday without exception be in conformity with the diocesan letter issued by Bishop William T. Manning, asking that a truce be observed in the inter-factional controversy until after the Christmas holidays.

Fundamentalists of the diocese, it was understood, tacitly agree not to use their pulpits Sunday to reinforce their arguments in favor of the pastoral letter of the house of bishops which was one of the most important causes of the schism and which was upheld in Bishop Manning's letter.

Preachers of both sides whose prepared sermons for Sunday were to have skirted controversial grounds were said to be revising them to conform to the appeal for a holiday peace.

REVOLT TRUMPHING

Galveston, Tex.—Emphatic denial that overtures for a peace parley will be entertained by the De La Huerta government was contained in an official dispatch from Alvarez Del Castillo, secretary of foreign affairs for De La Huerta, at Veracruz, received here Saturday by Adolfo Jimenez, rebel agent.

"The revolution is triumphing ev-

General Terraznos, Obregon chieftann, Friday appeared at the De and entered the rebel fold with all his

ATTACK TRAIN

Juarez, Mexico—General Manuel Chao, former Villista, and 24 revolutionists who attacked a combination passenger and freight train between Rosario and Parral, were being pursued by federal forces and several arrested, according to passengers who arrived Vera Cruz on the train.

Conflicting stories were told of the attack which was confirmed from Parral, some passengers stating that the train guard of 20 federals fled, while others reported that the rebels were driven from the mountains by the guard which returned their fire and killed Colonel Solis, one of Chao's officers. A cablegram received from Veracruz by local agents of the rebellion stated that General Francisco Reimann, commanding Puerto Mexico, had joined the rebels and that the rebels control Vera Cruz, Campeche, Yucatan, Colima, Tabasco, Guerrero and Jalisco and parts of Michoacan, Tepic, Tamaulipas, Puebla and Oaxaca, and that four railroad men who refused to obey orders have been executed by the federals.

Representatives of the Obregon government here were advised that

Cruz, had been taken by the federal and that General Green, revolutionist, was routed at Villa Hermosa. Ta-

TWO FIREMEN HURT IN $150,000 BLAZE

Minneapolis Business Houses Suffer Considerable Losses From Flames

By Associated Press
Minneapolis—Two firemen were injured and lives of scores of employees endangered when fire last Friday destroyed the old Minneapolis iron block in the wholesale district here with a property loss of $150,000. The fire started on the second floor of the building, which with the third and fourth stories was occupied by the International Stock Food Co. The employees of the concern escaped by fire exits. The company's loss was estimated by officers at $50,000.

The Leggett and Meyers Tobacco Co., on the first floor lost $25,000 and the owners of the building, T. W.
Stevenson Co. set their loss at $75,000.

Both the injured firemen, Anthony Eppelberg fell to the street from the second story when the floor collapsed, suffering several broken ribs and possible internal injuries, and William J. Hallenback, hit by falling timbers had his right ankle sprained.

A dog left in a parked, closed car in front of the building was burned with the machine when flames developed in efforts of 300 firemen who responded to the alarm, saved adjoining warehouses.

PRESIDENT ENTERTAINS LAWMAKERS ON CRUISE

and several guests on another Saturday afternoon and evening cruise down the

GRAND CHUTE IS FIRST TO APPOINT DANCE INSPECTORS

Supervisor Grant Selects Officers To Supervise Public Dances

The first dance hall inspectors to be appointed under the newly enacted dance hall ordinance of the county board are two men named by Supervisor F. A. Grant, town chairman of Grand Chute.

Edward Kaphingst, who lives on Second-ave in Appleton, and Jacob Damert, who lives near Kimberly station, are the appointees to supervise dance halls and public dances in the town of Grand Chute. By agreement of the county board the selection of men outside the territory of the respective county supervisors was made possible.

Ordinarily the appointment of dance hall inspectors is prerogative of the county board only, but because the board adjourned before it had opportunity to select the officers, the county supervisors, under the terms of the ordinance, will make temporary appointments, just as they are entitled to fill vacancies that arise between sessions of the county board.

There are at present two dance halls operating in the town which will come under the supervision of the inspectors. Rainbow Gardens just east of Appleton, and Stammer's hall at Apple Creek. At least two men are necessary in the town so that regulation may be possible in both halls the same evening. It may become necessary later to appoint additional men.

The compensation for inspectors is $5 a night, which sum is to be advanced by the dance hall proprietors as payment for dance permits. The individual permits will be secured from the county supervisors, but the annual license at $10 each will be issued by the chairman of the county board. The ordinance will go into effect soon after Christmas, depending upon the time when all necessary forms will have been printed.

It is not the intention to run dance halls out of business, Mr. Grant said. "All we ask is they be run on the square."

DANCE HALL OWNERS FIND YEARLY QUOTA

Manitowish—Proprietors of county dance halls intend to test the constitutionality of one section of the dance ordinance passed recently by the county board, which takes effect on Jan. 1. It is that part of the law which limits the number of dances that may be held in each hall during the year. The ordinance sets the number at twelve and to this the owners object.

A meeting of the owners has been called for Saturday at which a fund will be solicited for the purpose of fighting a test case. The dance hall men say they are not concerned with other sections of the law, such as the licensing of halls and the closing hour but they feel that through limiting the number of dances legitimate business is being interfered with.

While the hall proprietors believe the county board overstepped its powers in but one clause of the law, there is a possibility that the ordinance will be declared illegal in its entirety should the court uphold the owners on the one section. It was stated on Friday that an attorney had already been engaged for the case.

CITY UNDERTAKES ANOTHER SEWER JOB

With the rest of the 1923 sewer construction completed one more job is yet to be undertaken this winter. It is a sewer of about a quarter of a block on Durkee-st between Second-ave and Summer-st in the vicinity of the new Catholic church that will be located there. The city engineers' specifications were accepted by the common council at its last meeting and the work ordered done under the direction of the board of public works.

It is a job in which the city will bear the entire expense, since the future church and all other property owners, but one, on both sides of the street in that block are already provided with sewer connections from other streets. The cost to the city will be approximately $100 which is about half the expense that would have been charged to the city, were the sewer to be extended from Second-ave clear through to the end of the block. The one property owner now without service will be able to connect diagonally with a Y of the extension to be made from Second-ave.

SCHOOL GETS $44 FROM CHRISTMAS PARTY AUCTION

More than $44 was cleared in the auction in connection with a Christmas party in Industrial H. S. school, Center of which Mrs. Hazel Roun Bunker is teacher. The proceeds will be used to purchase school equipment.

GAME OF GOLF IS ENJOYED IN SUNSHINE ALMOST AT CHRISTMAS

Eight holes of golf on Dec. 21! Appleton is as good as California, Florida or any place in the south when it comes to weather in the opinion of Dr. H. E. Peabody and W. S. Smith, who spent part of the afternoon playing on River-view Country club links.

The weather was balmy and ideal for golf, they said, and the game was enjoyed as much as any summer contest. They had expected to lay aside their clubs for the season long ago but the two men have been on the links for a short while afternoons many times since Thanksgiving day.

Friday thus became not only the shortest day in the year but one of the most exceptional on record for weather.

Sermon Topics

Sermon subjects at nearly all the churches Sunday morning will have a bearing on the Christmas season and at the Methodist church in the evening, "The Christmas Joy," will be rendered by the Methodist quartet.

ST. PAUL TEAM WINS CAGE GAME FROM NEENAH

St. Paul basketball team won from the Neenah Y. P. S. team at the Y. M. C. A. Friday evening with a score of 26 to 11 which more than evened up the defeat for the Appleton team at Neenah on Wednesday evening when the score was 28 to 26. The first part of the game was fairly even, the first half ending in a 10 to 9 score for the St. Paul men. The Neenah team scored practically all its points before the Appleton team found the basket.

ROSEBUSH IS INVITED TO TALK AT JANESVILLE

Judson J. Rosebush of Appleton, one of the leading promoters of the new Y. M. C. A. constitution which will be up for ratification by the various local associations early next year, has been invited to speak on the subject at the Janesville association between Christmas and New Years day. He was unable to appear there Monday to address the board of directors but an endeavor was made to secure him for an address later.

M. W. Fleckenstein, who is the Detroit, Mich., representative of the Aid Association for Lutherans, visited the home offices here Saturday while en route to his home at Mankato, Minn., to spend the Christmas holidays.

MENASHA WANTS TO ADD 2 MORE WARDS

What Appleton has been considering for years is about to be undertaken in Menasha, which, with a view of securing larger representation on the county board, proposes to add two more wards to the city. Addition of more wards was proposed at the last council meeting in Menasha with the result that it was referred to the mayor, city attorney, city engineer and street committee with instructions to prepare a formal report at the next meeting. Development of the outlying districts has caused the present wards to outgrow their old boundaries. The city now has five wards.

Huge Gift Offer
One of the largest cigars ever exhibited in Appleton is on exhibition at M. Aaron's furniture store on College-ave. It is more than eight inches in length and nearly two inches in diameter and was sent to Mr. Aaron as a Christmas present by his brother who resides in Chicago.

MILL OFFICERS ARE COMPANY'S GUESTS

Kimberly-Clark company entertaining 65 superintendents and foremen of its mills at Kimberly, Appleton and Neenah at a dinner Thursday evening at the new clubhouse at Kimberly. The Rev. W. T. The battle was the result of a challenge issued by the foremen.

Indian Names Of Cities And Villages Plentiful In Wisconsin

Wisconsin cities, towns, lake streams and settlements take their names largely from the Indian language. A long list of names unpronounceable to entire strangers is proof of this statement. Recently a list was compiled showing how some Wisconsin cities get their names and what they mean in the Indian language. A few of them are as follows:

Menasha—Father Chrysostom Veryst, a Franciscan missionary among the Chippewa Indians, gives in an old manuscript, now in the Wisconsin historical collections, the following meanings for Wisconsin names with which we are most familiar. He was assisted in making it by a Chippewa merchant of superior and a Chippewa scholar and interpreter from the same place.

Akappa (town), corruption of anin, when Aminon (river), corruption of aminikan, spawning ground; Anira (town) corruption of aniri, those; Ash-kaubenon (creek), from ashkabiwin, place where they keep water; Chequamegon (lake), corruption of Chagou amizong, a long narrow strip of land into a body of water; Chippewa (river and county), abbreviation of Ojibway; Kaukauna (town), from kakaning, where they fish for pike; Kenosha (county and town), from kinnoje, pickerel or pike; Kewaskum (town), from giweshkam, his tracks are toward home; Manitowish (county and town) corruption of manitowag, spirit spawn; Menominee (river), corruption of manomining, wild rice people; Mequon (town), from minnaw, a feather; Milwaukee (town and river), from minnawaki, good land (Milwaukee is also said to be derived from minnawaki, a promontory); Mishawaka (town), means great bear; Mosinee (falls and town), from mosining, moose; Mukwonago (lake and town), from mukwanagong, bear hair; Muscoda (town), corruption of muskeshong, prairie; Necedah (town) corruption of nissida, let there be three of us; Niskimi (town) corruption of nikitim, wild gooseberry; Oconomowoc (lake and town), corruption of oconomowag, beaver dam; Oshkosh (town), from oshima, a chief; Ottawa (town), from the name of an Indian tribe; Okauchee, trading people; Oshkosh (county), the name given by the Chippewas to their ancient enemies, the Foxes; Ozaukee (county), corruption of ozaish, people living at a river's mouth; Packwaukee (town), corruption of nobiwaki, swampy; Poygan (lake and town), from opwagan, a pipe; Shawano (town and county) from lawanong, in the south; Sheboygan (county and town), from shobagan, pipe stem; Shiocton (town), corruption of ajeetan, it floats up stream; Suamico (town) and Little Suamico (river), corruption of ossawaming, place of yellow beaver; Totogatic (river) means boggy river; Waukesha (county and town), corruption of wagoashag, foxes; Waunakee (town), from wanaki, he lives in peace; Waupun (town), from wabun, east; Wausau (town), corruption of wassa, faraway; Waustota (town) from wauwateshi, fire fly; Weyauwega (town) corruption of oulawi, kan, he embodies it; Winnebago (town and county), dirty water people, named from the Indian tribe that formerly peopled Menasha.

3,000 Messenger Boys Couldn't Deliver City's Daily Phone Messages

35,000 Conversations Are Carried On Every Day Over Telephone Wires In Appleton

Each of the 55 telephone operators at the Appleton office of the Wisconsin Telephone company takes care of as many messages for the city each day as 35 messenger boys could if they were delivering messages 10 hours a day. It would take more boys to deliver the 35,000 telephone calls within the city each day than there are boys between the ages of four and twenty years in Appleton.

If there was but one boy in Appleton 24 hours a day to deliver messages, it would take him nearly two years to deliver all the messages that are sent through the telephone office each day. Of course a messenger boy could not walk more than 10 hours a day and so either the number of boys would have to be increased or it would take several years longer.

AVERAGE CALLS DAILY
What part of the 35,000 calls do you put through? There are 5,327 Appleton telephones according to the listing for Dec. 1 and there are 545 farmers' telephones which receive service. That means that the average service per telephone is 6 calls a day. Some people do not use this number of calls on any one day while others use several times that many.

Now suppose that in a block where there are 10 telephones, a messenger service was used as extensively as the telephone is. That would mean that 60 or more messages would get out from one block. A messenger would be able to take care of not more than 20 trips during his day. That would mean that such a block would use three messengers a day. Interesting, isn't it?

With 50 of the operating staff of 88 telephone girls working on local calls during each day, each girl will put through 700 calls. Do you wonder that you have to wait a moment some times and that a bit of weariness creeps into her professionally polite "Number, please"? These calls are not equally distributed during the day and usually the time when you want to order the day's provisions and talk a little to one or two of your friends is just the time when everyone else wants to do just the same thing.

550 TOLL CALLS A DAY
It is impossible to estimate how long it would take a man to walk or ride to the places that are reached by the toll calls. They average 550 in number per day, but go to every possible corner of this state and many others. A comparatively few subscribers use the majority of the toll calls although there are a very few who do not have some toll messages during each month.

Here is another line of thought for the mathematician. If the telephone company provided only one line for all the patrons, it would take, just three days lacking two hours to put through the day's message business, counting three minutes to a call. Not only that, while everyone was fighting for a line, the police would be called to more than one riot scene. If the one line was busy a messenger would have to be called to be dispatched and the riot would turn into "the scene of the murder" before the police arrived.

Speaking of the length of each call, did you know that the average call is not more than three minutes in length? If you talk longer than that you are not with the crowd. Because the preponderance of business calls over "visits" on the telephone, the average is lower than the five minute limit. Many calls are short-and-to-the-point-business-matters and require only a minute.

When asked just what the operators are instructed to do in case of a too long call, H. M. Fellows, Appleton manager, intimated that they really do not like to do anything about it. Several factors enter in which make it absolutely necessary to interrupt long calls on occasion. If the line is busy for more than the five minute period and someone is trying to get either of the connected lines, that third party becomes impatient and asks for the line. Since there is a five minute limit, the operator cuts in and asks that the lines be released. Sometimes, too, a subscriber on a line with a "visitor" is annoyed because he cannot get the operator and his own telephone messages are delayed because of the thoughtlessness of another party on the line. If complaint is made, the management must in justice to the complaining subscriber make the service satisfactory.

Each subscriber is allowed to determine the number of telephones he needs. If the operator notices that a telephone is being called a great many times and that there are many calls when the line is busy, the management suggests to that subscriber that he may be losing business because of the failure of these calls to reach him in nearly all cases of this kind, the subscriber orders another telephone or has some improvement added to his service.

That the growth of a business is often indicated by its increase in telephone service was the opinion of Mr. Fellows. He said that when a small business is started up, one telephone is all that is necessary. Soon two trunk lines may be necessary with an arrangement for switching from one to another. Then a small switchboard is introduced and finally an operator with a large switchboard when the concern has grown to need it.

LITTLE MISTLETOE SEEN IN APPLETON

It is a lamentable fact, but mistletoe is becoming scarcer every year and soon maidens fair will have to forego its privilege or substitute something else. The scarcity of mistletoe doesn't seem to be accounted for in any concrete manner, but perhaps like the rest of the world, merely changing with the times. Mistletoe, although delightfully annoying, is really "dressed" in these days of feminine freedom and flapperism. Holly, as a Christmas decoration, retains its old time popularity and is

1924 Promises to Be a Big Building Year

Four billion dollars was invested in new buildings in this country in 1922, five billions in 1923, and eight billions more is required to catch up with demand. One of the leading building financiers in the country published these figures recently, and predicted that 1924 would probably see more money invested in new buildings than 1923.

This means a steady increase of demand for electric service. It means Wisconsin investors will have a continuing opportunity to invest their savings in this business, financing its growth to meet the increase of demand for all kinds of electric service.

Since May 1, 1923, more than 5,000 Wisconsin men and women have bought $500,000 of Wisconsin Gas & Electric 7% participating preferred shares, and close to $2,500,000 of Milwaukee Electric Railway & Light 7% cumulative preferred shares, through our Securities Department. The remainder of the $3,000,000 issue of Milwaukee Electric preferred shares put on sale May 1 will be sold out early in 1924.

For a permanent 7% income investment we know of nothing better than these shares. Each share pays a cash dividend of $7 a year—$1.75 March 1, $1.75 June 1, $1.75 September 1, $1.75 December 1, by checks mailed to share-holders.

Thousands of men and women have formed the wise habit of saving regularly part of what they earn, through buying Milwaukee Electric and Wisconsin Gas & Electric preferred shares on monthly payments. In this way they get 7% interest on every dollar invested, from the start. Paying $5 down and $5 a month per share for eighteen months, their accrued interest at 7%, credited on the last payment, takes care of the nineteenth monthly payment. Thus, in 18 months from the day they buy shares, they have them paid for and begin drawing regular 7% dividends, paid every three months.

The shares cost $100 each, bought either for cash or on payments. You can buy one share or as many more as you want. We shall be pleased to have you come in and talk it over with us, or let us send a salesman or a circular with full details. Mail orders filled by registered letter.

GIVING TO THE POOR
Christmas time is the season of giving. It is the time when mankind is at its best; when the heart is touched by the appeal of the friendless; when the Great Example of Love is uppermost in the minds of men.
The Good Fellows club makes its appeal for the needy at Christmas time because at this time the hearts of men are most receptive to suggestions of suffering about them. The Good Fellows club is not a new idea in Appleton. It has been tried for three years and has proved to be the most efficient way of alleviating distress of our needy and the most practical way of obtaining funds to carry on this work. Money contributed by Good Fellows is apportioned among the five cooperating charities in proportion to the service they render and this service is measured by the number of families they care for. The five charities work through a central agency that eliminates duplicated effort and reduces distribution of charity to a basis of efficiency.
This method of caring for our unfortunate—a most necessary work—has created confidence among our people. They are assured that the money they give will not be wasted but will be spent where it is most needed. There is no community, however, prosperous, however favored, that does not have its unfortunate. Appleton has them and they must be cared for.

Giving to the poor is more than sentiment; it is good business. The manufacturer, the employer, the businessman, must consider what is done to raise the level of citizenship in his community; he must be interested whether his community is a breeding place for good or bad citizenship. Forsaken poverty seldom breeds good citizenship. Young people, beginning life in hardship, suffering and privation, face the world with jaundiced eyes and embittered hearts and it is from the ranks of these that we get the majority of our troublemakers, fault-finders, and criminally minded whose activities cost millions of dollars in perverted energy, lost production and needless anxiety.

Providing for the poor so that children may start life with a more kindly vision as good business for all of us. In Appleton this can be done most efficiently through the Good Fellows club. Appleton people always are generous. This is Christmas time. Any one who cannot afford to give to the Good Fellows club can not afford to give to anything.

CHRISTMAS FIRE HAZARDS
Christmas and its joys should not be allowed to blind men to the ordinary rules of safety for the protection of the home and the lives of the family. And yet at holiday time parents who try to keep their children free from even the possibility of danger will install in the heart of their homes, where it is sure to be the center of attraction for the little ones, the most inflammable thing that ever enters it—the ordinary evergreen Christmas tree. While it grows more dry and dangerous in the warm rooms they drape it with cotton for snow, tissue paper loops and tinsel for decorations, stick candles all over it, hang up toys that a child will grab for, and then trust to luck and provide for safety from a hazard that may prove as dangerous and as deadly as a rattlesnake or an open keg of gunpowder.

Just to play fair and take his share of the chances pater familias often surrounds himself with pillows, puts on cotton hair and whisks and makes himself more of a menace than a help in case a fire should start.
And fires do start, thousands of them every holiday season. Firemen look forward to a run of Christmas tree fires just as they did to Fourth of July fires before the Sane Fourth movement put an end to them in many places. Why not a sane Christmas as well as a sane Fourth? Why should the children's festival be made the means of destroying hundreds of lives and thousands of homes? Use little electric lights instead of candles, asbestos instead of cotton, non-combustible decorations instead of inflammables, and then watch the tree with the utmost care especially when the children are around it. It is better to be safe than sorry, especially with the little ones at Christmas time.

STUDIES IN MAKING MONEY
Dr. Adelbert Ford, Psychologist of the University of Michigan, has made an investigation of the careers of former students. He found that the men who took conspicuous part in athletics and university society are averaging $8,000 to $10,000 a year. Regular athletes are earning $6,400 a year. The brainiest men in the university, the men who took the highest honors, are making $3,000 a year, and they are engaged principally in pedagogy and science.

Dr. Ford's inquiry leads to the conclusion that high mentality and excellent education are not guarantees of wealth. The men who attended the university ten years ago, and who interested themselves in the daily bustle of university life, and played a large part of the time, are the ones who are most successful.
Personality is the first requisite of success. Ability and action are the next. We deal with human beings in our businesses and professions, and, if we understand human nature, we are reasonably sure of being successful.

The student who pores over books is an intellectual. He suppresses his personal magnetism. He acquires diffidence. He does not push himself. His action is mental. Athletes and good mixers are concerned in practical affairs. The student delves into theory. The good mixers cultivate business energy.

Education is, of course a great advantage. The average income among the men who were the life of the university would not be so high had these men not learned some theory. But is not education itself that brings in money. Personality, ability and energy count most in financial success. Personality, energy, education and culture are a great combination.

We are not overlooking the fact that success in life is not determined by dollars. Without doubt the greatest successes that have been made have had no relation to money. We are simply addressing ourselves to the part that education plays in money-making. Up to a certain point it is an important part, but beyond that it is of little use. Many of our wealthiest men have been uneducated, in the technical use of this term, although in reality they have been self-educated in the fullest sense in the world of practical experience.

THE LOTTERY
Jack didn't know much about her.
Jill didn't know much about him.
Just strangers as you might aver—
And victims of Dan Cupid's whim.
They married, however, as people will do,
Believing that they could make One out of Two.
Bill thought he knew all about Ann.
Ann thought she knew all about Bill.
Their love with their childhood began.
They married—as some people will.
Believing, as lovers have constantly done,
That they could change Two quite completely to One.

Jack and Jill are the happiest pair
That you will be likely to scan.
Unless you should chance to compare
Their rapture with Bill and with Ann.
Which proves—well, it proves, I think I knew
I wouldn't leave just what it proves up to you.

SWEATING FEET
A reader offers the following interesting suggestions concerning sweating feet:
"At different times I have read your commendations with reference to the matter of perspiring and ill smelling feet and note that you have great faith in formaldehyde as a deodorant. I have used this product for many years with excellent results, but have used a much weaker solution than you advised. The one to eight solution that you suggested burned and blistered my feet causing them to peel badly. I have found that a one to 32 solution is more suitable for my skin.
"My experience tells me that much of the offensive odor comes from the accumulation of effete matter or odors in the lining of the shoes. To remedy this I pour a cupful of the 1-32 solution into the shoe, shake it around for half a minute to thoroughly wet the entire lining, then pour it out to the other shoe and treat likewise, then pour oil and set the shoes away to dry for 24 hours. This has proved very effective.
"You advise sprinkling boric acid powder into the shoes. This is a constituent of foot powders, but has never proven satisfactory to me. One day in desperation I took the plain talc powder I use for dusting my tire casings and applied it liberally to the inside of my shoes and found great relief in all ways. From the nature of talc I know it is not absorbent, deodorant or disinfectant, it merely lessened all the disagreeable conditions. Possibly the talc diminishes the shoe friction and therefore the amount of heat developed."
Formalin is the name of the standard solution of formaldehyde sold as a disinfectant (deodorant) and as a preservative. Formalin (the official medical name for it is liquor formaldehydi) is a 37 per cent solution of the gas formaldehyde in water, colorless, with a pungent odor, in the pure state it is a caustic. A special polymerized preparation of it known as paraform comes in pastilles which are used in a lamp to generate formaldehyde gas for disinfecting and deodorizing a room and its contents. The gas penetrates fabrics without injuring them, not destroying their color; it is far less poisonous than some other disinfectants so used.
The strength of the dilution I suggested, one to eight, may be too great for some skins, as I explained at the time, but even stronger solutions are often advantageously used, merely sponged or painted up on the soles and the spaces between the toes and allowed to dry. Once a week perhaps. In using a formalin solution a brush or a swab of cotton on the end of the finger—a brush or a swab of cotton on a stick is handy to apply it with. A one to 32 solution is made by placing about a tablespoonful of the official or pure formalin (liquor formaldehydi) in a pint bottle and filling it up with water. A tablespoonful in a half pint bottle filled up with water makes a one to 15 solution. Two tablespoonfuls in the half pint would make a one to eight solution, which is about as strong as necessary for most cases. The one to 32 solution might be applied every day or every alternate day for a week or two.
The suggestion to treat the linings of the shoes is a good one. The formalin not only deodorizes but tends to preserve the linings and the leather, too.
Many sufferers from excessive or foul sweating of the feet obtain great relief from the daily or constant use of boric acid powder sprinkled in the shoes and in the stockings. The reader's experience with plain talcum is interesting. Foot powders generally consist of mixtures of varying quantities of talcum, boric acid and inert fillers. Another good plan is to stand the stockings or the stocking feet out in a strong solution of boric acid and hang them up to dry.
A solution of half an ounce of aluminum chloride in three ounces of water lightly dabbed on the soles daily for about a week, is satisfactory in controlling excessive sweating without foul odor.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Hearty Merry Night
I read your column every night, and it has done me much good. I take my six rolls every night and every morning and believe me, it is the most bracing diet I've ever tried.—Miss E. A. LOOKING BACKWARD
TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
Saturday, December 24, 1898.
C. P. Richmond was a Green Bay visitor.
T. A. Why has been in Madison on business for several days.
Miss Ceila Hammel was the guest of Mrs. M. Billestein at Neenah.
Miss Hattie Morrow was visiting her sister, Mrs. J. I. Toner, at Kaukauna.
John Wunderlich, the new county treasurer, was to remove from Stephentown to Appleton the following week.
Miss Emelyn Hogan, who was teaching school at Menominee, was spending her holiday vacation with Appleton relatives.
Dr. and Mrs. G. A. Ritchie left for Manawa, where they were to spend Christmas with relatives.
Eben Rexford, Shiocott poet, sprained his ankle and was confined to his home.
Miss Sadie McNamee arrived home from Downer college for the holidays.
W. F. Montgomery received notice of the death of Joseph Barnes, formerly of Neenah, who for several years had been making his home in Idaho. Millard's news was to be sung at midnight at St. Mary church. Miss Nora McGilgan of Milwaukee was to assist the choir.
Langstadt & Crosswell were awarded the contract for increasing the capacity of the lighting plant of the papermill at Kimberly.
Five tramps were being lodged at the police station the night previous.

TEN YEARS AGO
Saturday, December 20, 1913.
Attorney J. Eimer Lehr of Milwaukee was an Appleton visitor.
Miss Carrie E. Morgan left for Stevens Point to spend the holidays with relatives.
Samuel Shary of Cranston spent the day at the courthouse on business.
Mrs. Belle Ullman returned from Buffalo, N. Y., where she had been visiting relatives and friends.
Mrs. Ruth Winslow was about to leave for New York, where she was to spend the winter with relatives.
Hugo Keller, Edward and Earl Plantz, Edward Stier, Gerhard Reuster, and Sylvester Weyenberg were home from Champion College of Sacred Heart at Prairie du Chien for the holidays.
Victor Studley of Cleveland, Ohio, formerly of Appleton, spent several hours in Appleton the day previous.
Raymond Hartung and Emory Gräzke, students of the university of Wisconsin, were home for the holidays.
Memorial services for Miss Emma Kate Corkhill were to be held at 3 o'clock the following afternoon at Lawrence chapel.

SONG OF THE CHRISTMAS SHOPPER
I've finished my Christmas shopping.
I've squandered my last red sou;
My wallet's flat,
But I don't mind that.
For thank the Lord, I'm through.
I've bought all the things I've listed,
And a dozen or more beside;
Twas a shame and a sin,
How I blew in.
My coin this glad Yuletide,
My corn is about to kill me,
And my joints are stiff and sore;
My back feels lame,
And my weary frame,
Will ache for a week or more.
I've finished my Christmas shopping.
I've got all I'm going to get.
By I gravely sob,
Had my roll held out.
If I would have been through yet.

Rare Gifts
Asked if her husband is a man of rare gifts, Mrs. Neighbor said, "He certainly is, for he hasn't bought me a thing for Christmas since we were married. The closest thing to a present I ever got from him was a legal writ which began with the words, 'By these presents.'"
Isn't it odd that nobody stops to inquire what Santa Claus himself would like for Christmas?
Meanest Man Contest
For the latest candidate we nominate the father who promised his kids that their stockings would be filled Christmas morning—with the mental reservation, "when you put your feet into them."

Coffee Praised By Eminent Man
After three years of research at a cost of $50,000, Prof. Samuel C. Prescott of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology has come to the conclusion that coffee as a beverage is not injurious, but, on the contrary, that it aids both mental and physical activity. He says:
"After weighing the evidence, a dispassionate evaluation of the data so comprehensively surveyed has led to no conclusions that coffee is an injurious beverage for the great mass of human beings, but, on the contrary, that the history of human experience, as well as the results of scientific experimentation, point to the fact that coffee, is a beverage which, properly prepared and rightly used, gives comfort and inspiration, augments mental and physical activities, and may be regarded as the servant rather than the destroyer of civilization.
"Coffee, if properly prepared, has a remarkable stimulating and fatigue-relieving effect, due to the action

Paved Streets Would Circle World Twice

(From The Scientific American.)
In 230 leading cities of the United States there is enough pavement to cover an 18-foot street that would twice encircle the globe. This mileage by far exceeds that of every other country of the world. Of this total amount of paving, 78 per cent is of the type higher than waterbound macadam, including about 22 per cent of brick, 11 per cent of stone block, 3 per cent of wood, about 6 per cent of portland cement concrete, 2.5 per cent of tar macadam and 54 per cent of asphaltic types.
The overwhelming predominance of the asphaltic types of pavement indicates the determination of modern cities to eliminate dust, noise, shock and interruption to traffic in street construction as far as possible.
The vast network of underground structures in American cities, including wires, pipes and conduits, make it necessary to open the pavement at frequent intervals to obtain access to these underground services. The engineer must, therefore, provide a pavement which can be cut through without great trouble and expense, which can be readily repaired and, which, after it has been repaired, blends with the old pavement.
For fast moving traffic the modern city pavement must be smooth, not only to permit the rapid and comfortable movement of vehicles but to conserve motor fuel and tires. Only a slight saving in the operating cost per motor vehicle by reason of the smooth pavement reaches an aggregate, when the vast number of motor cars is considered, to justify a considerable outlay to obtain durability and smoothness.
Impact, or the pounding of heavy motor truck wheels, has attracted the anxious attention of city highway engineers to an increasing degree during the last 10 years. A truck wheel in motion delivers a blow equivalent to at least six times the dead weight. City engineers, therefore, attach increasing importance to the flexibility and resiliency of city pavements so as to take up the shock of impact.

Q. Did the clock in the old Capitol Building, 1st and A Sts., N. E. Washington, D. C., come originally from Westminster Abbey? J. F. B.
A. The National Woman's Party says that the clock in the old Capitol Building, which is now their headquarters, dates from Elizabethan times. It did not come from Westminster Abbey, but from Warwick Castle, England. It has a full set of Westminster chimes. The case is made of old English black oak, and is hand-carved, depicting the visit of Queen Elizabeth to the Castle.
Q. What is the name of the man who writes under the name "Achmed Abdullah"? F. S. B.
A. Captain Syed Shaykh Achmed Abdullah Nodir Khan el-Iddrisyeh el Duran. The captain was born in Kabul, Afghanistan.
Q. How much is the Philadelphia World's Fair to cost? P. A. B.
A. It is estimated that $15,000,000 will cover all expenses. Of this amount $5,000,000 is to be raised by subscriptions from the public, $5,000,000 from the city and the remainder from the Federal and State Governments.
Q. What is corn sugar? G. R.
A. This is a high grade sugar made from corn. Such sugar consists largely of dextrose.
Q. Why is the meridian passing through Philadelphia called the fifth principal meridian? J. O. B.
A. The zero meridian of longitude, those arbitrarily assumed lines running on arcs of great circles from Pole to Pole, passes through Greenwich, England. East and west from this point distance is measured in degrees of longitude. Every 15 degrees of longitude represents one hour of time change. These 15 degree lines are called principal meridians and thus the seventh meridian which passes through Philadelphia is called the fifth principal meridian.
Q. How long is a check good? Z. H.
A. The time limit on checks differs in various States. In the District of Columbia a check is good for three years.
Q. How many cities in the United States operate Piggly Wiggly stores? C. F. M.
A. At the present time this company is operating in 25 to 30 cities.
Q. In what section of the United States are the farms most prosperous? J. M. W.
A. The National Grange says that this year the cotton belt is by far the most prosperous agricultural section of the country. Wool and cattle industries rank next to cotton, while wheat is feeling a considerable depression.
Q. Who suggested that a five-pointed star be used on our flag? C. M.
A. Betsy Ross, who made the first flag, offered the suggestion that five-pointed stars be used in the design instead of six-pointed ones.

Touch New Lands With Air Routes
(Frank Dillnot, in The Landmark.)
Mr. Stefansson, the explorer, is of the opinion that the intention of the American government to send next summer a dirigible from Alaska over the north pole to Europe may bring a revolution of thought and action comparable with that which followed the voyages of Magellan and Columbus. The United States navy aeronauts who are organizing the journey see no special hazard in it.
The expedition is the initial move in a planned revolution for international communication.
It is stated that polar routes by air, connecting England, Japan, Alaska and Siberia, may come in the near future. A sensational economy of time in transmission will be one result; another will be that polar regions, not so cold or uninhabitable as is popularly supposed, will be opened up for examination and possibly for use.
On June last Maj. Gen. Sir Sefton Bracher, director of civil aviation, in a speech at Sheffield, made the suggestion that within 10 years there will be a regular carriage of mails by dirigibles from Great Britain to Japan over a transarctic route, going north from London and then south to Tokyo. If these forecasts prove to be right we are on the boundary lines of new and beneficial developments for the human race. Air transport on the lines indicated may probably make available new territories, but one thing certain is that it will bring the continents together in a way undreamed of even a few years ago.
We are all naturally a little skeptical about promises of future scientific wonders, but when we remember all that has been achieved in discovery during the last 20 years we are justified in the hopeful interest evinced by the new plans. London to Tokyo in a few days seems too good to be true, but so did wireless communication and flying machines themselves within the memory of all of us.

High School Pupils Give Yule Drama

Youthful Actors Give Impetus To Christmas Spirit In Splendid Play

The Christmas spirit was given another boost at the program at Appleton high school on Friday afternoon when the advanced dramatics class presented "Upon the Waters," by Tacie Mae Hanna under the direction of Miss Ruth McKennan. The play which was written around the Christmas of an old lady who had given away two fortunes and was unhappy because she had nothing else to give was ably presented by a group of the students.

Miss Pearl Felton as Mrs. Rebecca Hale made a nice old lady, spry but sad until her daughter-in-law, Eleanor Hale, played by Anita Nemachek, found that what she really wanted was to give things away. Miss Nemachek gave a clever interpretation of the butterfly type of young woman who often sees a solution to a problem more readily than her more practical sisters.

Miss Pearl Johnston played an admirable practical daughter-in-law who knew that Mother was not strong enough to go among those factory people. Robert Pugh was the cheery nephew who would give $1000 to make Becky smile and who went about in his goodhearted but unseeing way trying to make her smile by giving her things rather than allowing her to give things. William Hornbeck was the Christmas caller, taking the part of the poor factory man whose wife just wanted to see Mrs. Hale for Christmas.

The high school orchestra which is composed entirely of string instruments played several numbers. It is surprising how much appreciation of good music does to make the students play numbers of the highest order. A group of little girls from the Fourth ward school sang Christmas songs before a Christmas tree to complete the program.

PARTIES

Twenty friends of Miss Myrtle Hoening, 1061 Superior, surprised her at her home Friday evening on her birthday anniversary. The guests were in costumes. The prize for the prettiest costume was awarded to Miss Linda Schultz and the prizes for the funniest costumes were won by the Misses Minnie Harp, Clara Wolf and Alma Rohloff.

Twenty-five ladies of the Womens Aid Association for Lutherans league Wednesday evening attended a Christmas party at the club rooms in the insurance building. After a banquet, the members exchanged presents and spent the rest of the evening with games and other entertainments.

CLUB MEETINGS

Mrs. Edward Ward, Vine-st, entertained the Bunco club at a Christmas party Thursday afternoon. Prizes at dice were won by Mrs. Fred Kositzke, Mrs. George Miller and Mrs. Richard Groth. Christmas gifts were exchanged. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Fred Troeder.

Christmas greens and berries that were the Christmas gifts of Helen Egan Lyman, a former member of Appleton Girls club, were used to decorate the club rooms when the club gave its Christmas party Friday night. All members were instructed to bring plenty of pennies, so that they might bid on "white elephant" gifts. A Christmas reading, "Why the Cranes Rang," was given by Miss Emma Barclay. The hostesses were the Misses Inez Gurnee, Bess Mills and Clara Hale.

In New Office
H. B. Little and Don C. Dickinson have rented new office quarters in the insurance building of the Aid Association for Lutherans and took possession Saturday. They formerly occupied a joint office in the Masonic block.

Quartet Sings 'Manger Throne' In M.E. Church

Christmas carols will be a part of the program at the Methodist Episcopal church when the church quartet presents "The Manger Throne," by Charles Manney at 7:30 Sunday evening. The quartet is composed of Mrs. J. A. T. Nolan, soprano; Mrs. William H. Nolan, contralto; George C. Nixon, tenor; Carl S. McKee, baritone. This quartet is the one that sang for the Post-Crescent radio program broadcasted from Waupaca and sang in another Christmas program from the same station last Monday night. Mrs. Laura Brigham will accompany the quartet on the organ. The program follows:

Voices of the Sky Matthews Sleep Holy Babe Matthews Silent Night Hayden
The Manger Throne Manney
Part One The Annunciation Part Two The Vision of the Shepherds Part Three The Wise Men
Part Four Bethlehem

TRIANGLE SCHOOL HOLDS PROGRAM

Santa Claus Visits Children After They Perform For Parents

A happy Christmas gathering took place at Triangle school, town of Grand Chute, Friday evening when families of the pupils were present to hear a program of recitations, songs and other musical numbers under direction of Miss Viola Miller of Appleton, teacher. The U. K. E. club of Appleton assisted in the program with ukulele selections.

Santa Claus appeared after the children had concluded their program and rewarded them with gifts which he distributed. A candy auction then was held which netted $20 to be used for playground equipment.

The numbers on the program were: Recitation, "Twinkle, Twinkle," Theresa Stoffel; "A Suggestion for Santa," Woodrow Diehl; "The Christmas Tree," Carl Lodholz, Joseph and George Stoffel.

"Christmas Acrostic," Primary class; "Making Doll Dresses," June Diehl; Song, "When I Was a Baby," Theresa Stoffel, Margaret Kosier, Evelyn Roehl; "Poor Santa," Gerald Hartsworm; "The Naughty Doll," Margaret Kosier; Song, "Who Is He?" School; "Santa Claus," Margaret Abendroth; "The Sick Doll," Carl Lodholz, Evelyn Roehl, Florence Abendroth.

"On Capital Punishment," Lorein Hartsworm; Song, "Christmas Bell," Lower Grades; Reading, "Mrs. Smart Learns How to Skate," Lorain Hartsworm; "I'm Only a Little Boy," Raymond Weber.

"My Pocketbook," Evelyn Roehl; Song, "Silent Night," U. K. E. club; Upper grade girls accompanied by U. K. E. club.

Play, "Guests from Whittier Land," Cast: Bessie, Lucille Diehl; Barefoot Boy, Raymond Lodholz; Maude Mueller, Irene Abendroth; school boy and girl, Woodrow Diehl and Margaret Vasserbach; Red Riding Hood, June Diehl; Barbara Fritzsche, Lucille Roehl.

Recitation, "My Best Girl," "Wishbone Song," Primary class; "Dutch Girl Dance," Helen Rhode; "Little Housemaid," Florence Abendroth; "So Did I," Dayton Hartsworm; Play, "A Photographer's Troubles," Viola, Lucille and Woodrow Diehl; "Dr. Johnson's Picture Show," Marie Roehl; Song, "Be Joyful Ye Children," Three girls; Selection, U. K. E. club; Play, "Biddie Gets Dinner," (Biddie) Lucille Diehl, (Mrs. Smith) Helen Rhode; "Message to Santa," June Diehl; "Through the Telephone," Margaret Vasserbach; Song, "Jolly Old Santa," School.

ST. PAUL CHILDREN WILL GIVE PROGRAM

A special program of music and recitations is to be given Monday evening in St. Paul church under the direction of Ernest Schultz. There will be recitations by the school children and music by the children and congregation. The program will start at 7 o'clock.

COMMUNITY PROGRAM AT VILLAGE OF NICHOLS

Miss Gladys Lockyer, who teaches schools in Nichols, has charge of the program which is a part of the community entertainment to be given there Sunday evening. FALLING CHEESE PRICE REDUCES COST OF MILK

The sharp decline in the price of cheese in the last 30 days has resulted in a reduction in the price of milk by at least one distributor in Appleton. The Potts-Wood Co. has announced that milk will retail at 9 cents a quart from its creamery beginning Dec. 23. It is said the decline in cheese prices has caused a corresponding cut in the amount paid to farmers for milk.

800 Kiddies Invited To Elk Party

Eight hundred children have received invitations to the Christmas party which Elk lodge will hold at 10:30 Monday morning at Appleton theater. These are from worthy families who otherwise might not receive their full share of yuletide cheer.

Friday afternoon was devoted to Elk ladies to preparation of bags of goodies which will be distributed as the children leave the theater. Each will receive candy and oranges. The entertainment will consist of motion pictures.

CONNELLY TALKS TO LIONS MONDAY NOON

F. M. Connelly, city engineer, will discuss civic problems at the meeting of Lions club Monday noon in Conway hotel. Mr. Connelly will tell what problems have confronted the city in the past and the problems that will have to be solved in the future and will center his talk about what the Lions may do toward civic improvement. This talk by Mr. Connelly is an outgrowth of the address given by Dr. W. K. Stansfield of Green Bay on "Civic Patriotism" at the Lions club meeting last Monday night.

DECEMBER'S WARMTH MEANS BIG HONEY CROP

Friday, with its exceedingly mild weather, was a valuable day to apiarists in this locality, according to George Jacobson, who conducts a bee farm at McCarty crossing, north of Kaukauna. The balmy weather caused the bees to take flights as they do in the summer. This accomplishes what is called "cleaning" of the swarms, for the exercise and fresh air makes them more active and the honey production therefore will show an increase. Ordinarily the bees would remain dormant from the time the first cold weather sets in until spring. Mr. Jacobson realized about ten tons of honey from his hives last season.

NEW LONDON CHOIR WILL SING CAROLS SUNDAY EVENING

Gathering Will Be Held At Community Tree—Families Will Be Helped

Special to Post-Crescent:
New London—The pine tree on the lawn of Holy Trinity English Lutheran church at the corner of Beaver and South Pearl st. will serve as a community Christmas tree again this year. The choir of the several churches will lead in the singing of Christmas carols at the tree at 7 o'clock Sunday evening, Dec. 23.

On Monday afternoon, Dec. 24, baskets containing food and Christmas gifts will be distributed to needy families in the city, under the direction of the Civic Improvement league and the Rotary club. The latter organization contributed $15 to the Christmas fund.

Appropriate Christmas services will be held in the various New London churches on Sunday, Christmas eve and Christmas morning.

The Rev. Milton A. Baker will conduct a Christmas communion service at 10:45. The Sunday school program of Holy Trinity English Lutheran church is scheduled for 7:30 Christmas eve. The pastor's subject at the Christmas morning service at 10 o'clock will be "The First Christmas."

The Rev. W. W. Bell of the Methodist church will preach on the theme "When Darkness Turned to Light" at the 11 o'clock Sunday morning service. The choir will sing a fitting anthem. The Sunday school program will be given at 7:45 Sunday evening, following the program at the community tree, Sunday, Dec. 23.

Men's communion Sunday at Most Precious Blood church. Communion mass will be celebrated at 7:30 and high mass at 10 o'clock. Christmas services at the church of the Most Precious Blood will begin at 11:30 Monday evening. The choir will be assisted by selected members of the academy orchestra in rendering special Christmas music. Midnight mass will follow.

KAUKAUNA STARTS SEASON WITH WIN OVER DEPERE FIVE

Flashy Shot In Last Second Of Game Gives Electric City A Victory

Kaukauna—Ten seconds before the final whistle blew Jake Hovde made the basket that put Kaukauna high school on the heavy end of an 8 to 6 score which defeated East DePere high in the opening basketball game of the season Friday evening at the auditorium. The local school's team lived up to advance papers and showed splendid form in all departments of the game. DePere also played a fast game and was fighting every second of the fracas. The visitors had several more good chances to score than the Orange and Black but had hard luck in finding the inside of the mesh.

Emerson scored Kaukauna's first point on a free throw early in the first. A short time later Hovde added a field goal which was followed by a marker for the visiting team. The first quarter ended 3 to 2. During the second quarter DePere players missed four chances to score on free throws and at the end of the period there was still the same.

In the third period Hovde added another field goal while Miller, who took Emerson's position, gained a point on a foul, raising the total to six points while the invaders added one on a free throw. A field goal by Martens who hit the ball into the mesh as it bounded out of a player's hands put the visitors one point behind and put renewed pep into both sides. A few seconds of fast and furious play ended when a foul was called on Kaukauna and out of two chances Hovde shot the tying point.

CLOSELY GUARDED
Both teams closely guarded and few shots were tried at close range. Hovde made the winning basket just before the final whistle, however, when he received the ball with the enemy in neutral territory. With a clear floor ahead of him he dribbled and tossed the leather through the mesh from under the board.

The team made its first appearance in its new uniforms. The jerseys are orange, the same color as the old ones while the trunks are black trimmed with orange tape.

A five minute overtime contest called to break the 6 to 5 tie in the preliminary basketball game between the junior and sophomore teams. The sophomores were behind almost during the entire game but caught up by taking advantage of several free throws. The second year men showed slightly better team work than the juniors but lost many opportunities. In most cases the juniors were all set in five man defensive formation before the sophs could bring the ball into their own territory.

CHRISTMAS PARTY
Kaukauna—Mrs. Frank Tousser, 122 Islander, entertained the members of her Sunday school class at a Christmas party at her home Thursday afternoon. Ten girls were present. Games furnished amusement. Franco Paschen turned off all the honors in the corners.

LEGION FINISHES MEMBER CAMPAIGN

Christmas Tree Party Will Be Held For Benefit Of Children Monday

Seymour—Robert Krause post of the American legion completed a membership drive here Thursday during which the organization added more members and stimulated interest in its meetings and work.

The post has arranged a Christmas celebration for Monday for the children of Seymour. A community Christmas tree will be erected in front of the bandstand in Legion square and it will be adorned with varicolored lights. Gifts will be distributed by the post to the children who assemble there in the afternoon. If the weather is unfavorable the program will be held at the auditorium.

The supper and meeting of Outagamie County council of the American legion planned for Wednesday night was postponed on account of the Appleton members being unable to come.

Rural mail carriers of Seymour will have a holiday all Christmas day for the first time. Patrons in general approve the change.

Karl Numberger arrived here Friday from Leipzig, Germany. He is visiting his cousin, Paul Kuehne, and has come to make his home in this country and for the present reside in Seymour. He is a baker by trade.

Jacquet Cheese Co. has remodeled its building in this city putting in new hardwood floors, refinishing the interior and enlarging it.

Dr. R. L. Jones was installed as worshipful master of the local Masonic order for the coming year at the regular meeting of the lodge Monday night.

Other officers installed were: E. C. Werbel, senior warden; S. G. McCord, junior warden; Dr. W. L. Borden, secretary; P. L. Forward, chaplain; I. A. Hansen, senior deacon; Ray Miller, junior deacon; Harry Sasse and Marion Shepherd, stewards; Sam Aebischer, Galesburg, tyler.

We wish to express our sincere thanks to our good neighbors and friends for their kindness and sympathy toward us during the illness and death of our beloved son and brother. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Van Dorn and family.

3 PROGRAMS WILL USHER CHRISTMAS INTO KORTONVILLE

Churches Will Have Extensive Exercises Sunday And Monday Evenings

Hortonville—Christmas programs and services will be held at the various churches here.

The program at the Lutheran church will be held Christmas eve, at 7 o'clock. It will consist of a recitation of the Christmas story, recitations and songs by the children of the school. Following the program, the distribution of gifts will take place. Christmas morning at 9:30, German services will be conducted at the Lutheran church by the Rev. G. E. Boeticher, and at 11 o'clock English services will be conducted by the Rev. Mr. Boeticher's son, Immanuel, who is a ministerial student. Wednesday morning at 9:30, German services will be held by Walter Krenke, son of Prof. and Mrs. August Krenke, who also is a student.

At 7 o'clock Sunday evening, special services will be held at the Methodist church by Rev. Thomas Goldsworthy. There will also be special music Tuesday evening. The Christmas program will take place. A play entitled, "The Pot of Gold," will be given by members of the Epworth League under supervision of Mr. Thomas Goldsworthy. Following is the cast of characters: The seamstress, Beatrice Hagert; the laundress, Bessie Hills; the newsboy, Fred Buehlow; the orphan girl, Alice Dunn; the workman, Roy Goldsworthy; grandpa, Harland Jones; Mrs. Hargraves, Arlene Buchman; the hired girl, Florence Buchman; the minister, David Goldsworthy.

Basilians will be recitations by the primary class, John Buchman, Betty Buchman, Francis Prentice, Francis and Arthur Lamb, Ione Krause and Vernon Lamb and coral selections by the choir and the older girls' class. The Rev. and Mrs. Goldsworthy also will sing some Old English Christmas carols. Distribution of gifts will follow the program.

A Christmas program will be given at the Baptist church Christmas eve. The program will consist of songs and recitations by the Sunday school.

Christmas parties were held in the various grades of the public school Friday afternoon, after which the students were dismissed for a two weeks' vacation. Games were played and gifts were exchanged.

CECILIAN BAND'S OPENING CONCERT SCHEDULED DEC. 30

"Gypsy Life." Prize Winning Selection, Will Be Included On Program

Special to Post-Crescent:
Kimberly—Preparations are being made by the Cecilian band to present its first indoor concert of the season in Kimberly community hall on Sunday, Dec. 30, with Prof. Heyman from Larsen conservatory, Green Bay, as conductor.

One of the best numbers on the program that evening will be "Gypsy Life," by Ch. Le. There with its beautiful melodies and solos for baritone, cornet and saxophone, its "snappy" Gypsy dance with some lively variations of basses, trombones and saxophones and its tarantella. It was with this number that the New Holstein band, also with Prof. Heyman in charge, took the first place in first class at the annual musicians' contest at Two Rivers last summer.

Several solos, duets and trios, both instrumental and vocal will be on the program, with Prof. Gysbers of Kimberly in charge.

As in other years, the band has again conducted a drive for honorary members, and the number of tickets sold for this purpose indicates that large crowds can be expected at the concert this winter.

LEGION GATHERING
Verhagen post of the American legion will hold a sale at Verbeten bowling alley Sunday afternoon, Dec. 23. Several members of Oney Johnston post of Appleton, Coppens post of Little Chute, Leo Van Roy post of Darrow and Wrightston post will be here to help the Kimberly veterans get a start financially.

Verhagen post of Kimberly was formally organized last week Thursday, Dec. 13, when a large initiation was conducted by Oney Johnston post of Appleton and officers were installed. They will hold their regular meetings on the second Monday of every month in Kimberly dining hall.

PERSONAL NOTES
A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Van Lieshout.

The bus operating between Kimberly and Appleton was crowded all week with people from Kimberly going to Appleton to do their Christmas shopping there.

Harvey Werts, who has been ill with pneumonia for the last two weeks, is slowly recovering.

Christie Allie will spend her Christmas vacation at the home of her parents at Oconto.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Madday of Mishawaka, Ind., will come to Kimberly to spend their Christmas vacation at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Green.

HERE IS ANOTHER GOOD ARGUMENT FOR RADIO

Mothers who have anxiously watched their young sons sitting for hours with headphones clamped over their heads need have no fear of injury, according to the prominent French physician, Dr. C. A. Brier. He says: "The young generation will never be bothered with protruding ears, an affliction which was prominent among their ancestors. Youngsters who sit for at least three hours a day with radio headphones clamped over their ears will grow up to be handsome men with close fitting ears. Mothers who formerly tied back the protruding ears of their offspring should buy a radio set with headphones as soon as possible."

CANARIES BROADCAST PROGRAM BY WIRELESS

Cleveland—Birds on exhibition at the International Canary Show here held a radio concert during their visit. They broadcast their voices from Station WTAJL, the all-storage battery station here.

Those who listened in heard the best canary voices in the land. "Vancouver Premier," judged the world's champion singer, led the program. Another artist was "Lohengrin," 1922 champion, which has been made a gift to Mrs. Coolidge.

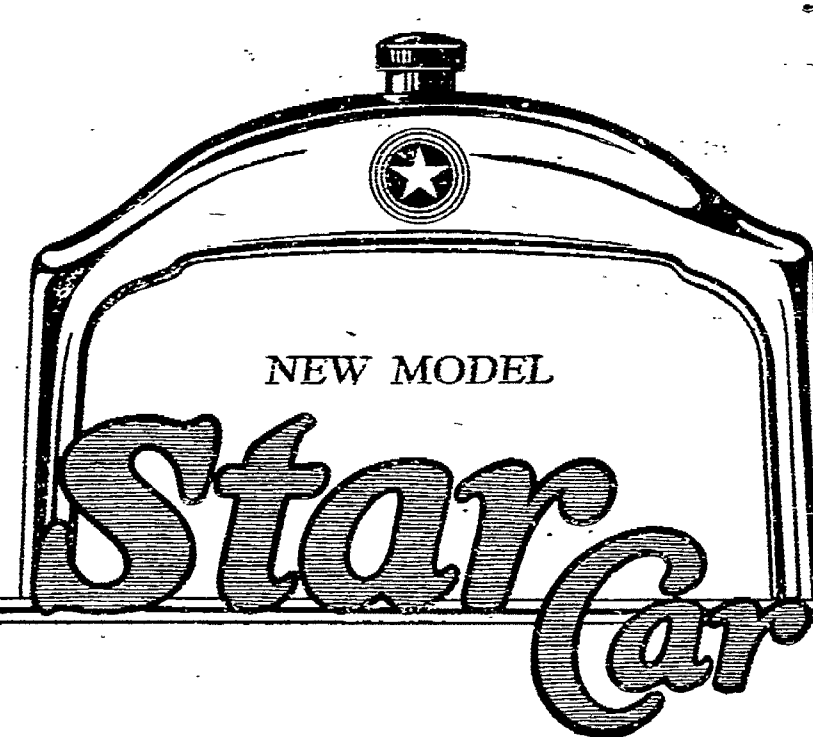

While some the birds took readily to the microphone, others had to be coaxed into singing by the soft tones of a violin.

Christmas Services In Kaukauna Churches

Kaukauna—Nearly every church in this city will celebrate the festival of Christmas with special music and special services. Several of the churches will hold programs on Christmas day, while in others the special musical programs will be on Sunday and Monday.

Much time has been spent in preparation of these programs. Pastors are inviting all persons to attend the services.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Two programs of merit will be given Sunday and Monday evenings in First Congregational church. The services Sunday evening will open with singing by the congregation. The choir will render two Christmas anthems after which two solos will be sung by Miss Irene Fietow of Appleton. Miss Ruth Behler also has prepared two readings. Selections by the young ladies and young men's Sunday school classes and violin music will intersperse other numbers of the program. Mrs. E. Farwell will render piano-photograph selections. A 15 minute Christmas talk will be given by the pastor, the Rev. Daniel Woodward.

The Christmas eve program will open at 7:30 Monday evening under direction of Mrs. H. B. Thompson. Sunday school superintendent. Two songs by the school will open the program. Selections will follow by the primary and intermediate departments after which one number will be presented by the young ladies class. Following that will be violin music and songs by the primary department. A decorated Christmas tree also will be a feature of the program. Selections will be sung by the choir which will be seated behind a huge arch with the wings of a cherubim made prominent by special lighting. The pastor will give a 10-minute talk after which gifts will be distributed to the children. Both programs will be open to the public. No admission will be charged.

STUDENTS BUY BOOKS FOR "OUTSIDE READING"

Miss Olga Achtenhagen's literature class at Appleton high school has purchased 20 new books for its own outside reading. Ten of these books arrived the day before Christmas va-cation and the class signed up for them at once. As soon as the litera-ture students have read the books, they will be donated to the high school library.

Although outside reading is en-couraged by Miss Achtenhagen, she does not require that a certain num-ber of books be read. The student is given credit according to the number he reads, whether he chooses to make that one or twenty.

COMPLETE CONCRETE WORK ON HUGE DAM AT WAUSAU

The concrete work on the new dam across Wisconsin river at Wausau which is being built by Wausau Paper Mills company was completed last week, according to Edward J. Maurer, who has just returned from a visit to that city.

There remains still considerable work to be done before the old dam which is being used as a cofferdam can be removed. The new structure is equipped with ten steel gates of the most modern type.

Instead of temporarily laying off mill employes not required during the quiet period which always precedes the holidays, the company has given them work on the new dam.

$1,000 For Kerecz

A thousand dollar reward is prom-ised for the arrest and conviction of Leo Kerecz, Chicago's million dollar oil swindler, according to notices received by the postoffice and other local au-thorities. He is charged with using the mails to defraud. The latest pre-sumption is that he is hiding in New York.

BAR MARRIED TEACHERS AT WISCONSIN RAPIDS

Wisconsin Rapids—Married women have been barred as teachers of the public schools here by the board of public education. The board has in-structed its committee to "hire only female teachers who are unmarried." This action is also backed by a resolu-tion condemning the engagement of married women as "unfair to girls who are spending their time and money fitting themselves as teach-ers." The decision was made, the resolution points out, in view of the fact that there are now more teach-ers than positions. The new ruling will not affect widows who are self supporting.

TRINITY LUTHERAN CHURCH

Trinity Lutheran church will ob-serve the Christmas season with a program to be given at 5:30 Monday evening by the Sunday school chil-dren. An organ prelude, a hymn by the congregation and a prayer will precede the children's program which will include such songs as "Silent Night," "Come Hither, Ye Children," "Advent Hymns," "O Little Town of Bethlehem," "From Heaven Above Earth I Come." A Christmas tree, decorated and lighted, under which approximately 200 gifts will be group-ed also will be an attraction.

On Tuesday morning Christmas day, English services will be held at 9:30 with services in German follow-ing at 10:30. German services also will be held at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning, sacred Christmas day. The schedule for Sunday morning is as usual. Sunday school will begin at 9:30 followed by English worship at 10:30. German worship will be at 10:30. A children's program for the Christ-mas program will be held at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Directory Company Postpones Visit Here Until Work Is Completed

One of the most important matters to be considered by the common council at the coming session will be the renumbering of the city's houses. While no direct provision was made for carrying on the work in the new plan, it is expected that the city will be ready to receive the new numbers by the time the directory is published. The directory company has been working on the new plan for some time, and it is expected that the new numbers will be ready by the time the directory is published. ON THE SCREEN

FARNUM SCORES AS TEXAS RANGER HERO

In a career notable for its picturesque interpretations, Dustin Farnum has appeared in ten of the roles most adapted to his style than that in "The Grail," a William Fox production opening Sunday at the Elks Theatre for one day.

Farnum plays the role of Chic Shelby, a Texas Ranger, who has dedicated his life to duty, having been taught the principles from infancy by his father, a Ranger who died "in harness." Love, dandyism and a strong moral are carried through the story, by an exceptionally capable star, Peggy Shaw, former Follies girl, plays opposite Farnum as the daughter of a clergyman with whom the Ranger is in love. Called between love and duty, he chooses the latter, but, by the kindness of fate, he also wins the girl.

The story is written by George Scarborough and the picture was made under direction of Colin Campbell. The scenario was by Charles Kenyon.

DOZEN NEW HOUSES IN WEST END NEARLY FINISHED

The dozen or more new houses in the vicinity of Appleton Junction are inclosed and the interior work is well under way. Nearly all of them have their heating plants in operation so that the work can be carried on regardless of the temperature outside. They will all be ready for occupancy within the next few weeks and will greatly relieve the housing situation in that part of the city.

Democratizing a decided penchant for this, this production is pronouncedly the only one in which Tom Mix expresses his entire bag of equine tricks.

The story is by Max Brand, an author who has long been noted for his western dramas. It provides Mix with opportunity to display those talents by which he has become so widely recognized.

BABY MARIE HEROINE OF WESTERN THRILLER

Baby Marie Osborne comes to the New Elks Theatre Sunday in one of her most popular successes

"A daughter of the West" is a thrilling Western melodrama in which the child star is a miniature cowgirl. The story, briefly, deals with a series of exciting incidents, with Baby Marie as the central figure in the far Western town of Red Gulch. "Rawhide" Pete a desperado, at the head of a dangerous gang of outlaws, is terrorizing the community. In the end he is captured in a most plausible but convincing manner by Baby Marie and her playmate, "Sunshine Sammie."

The story also has a thread of romance woven into it, along with "kid stuff" of the most whimsical and delightful kind.

"HAUNTED VALLEY"

Exciting scenes on land and in the air furnish thrills for "In Desperate Struggle," the new four-reel episode of Ruth Roland's new Pathé serial, "Haunted Valley," at the New Elks Theatre Sunday. In the action a newcomer, a Spaniard, makes his appearance, proving that the mystery of the Valley has something to do with the Imperial Expedition which left Mexico City in 1542, and hinting something of fabulous wealth. During this disclosure, Mallinson makes his escape and gets away in an engine on the tracks nearby. He is pursued by Ruth in an airplane, but disaster seems to follow the girl, as the plane falls directly in the path of the runaway engine.

"Bootlegging" Latest Game For Children

Children are the same, yesterday, today and forever. And their imitative instinct is just as keen as always. Not a few persons who read this will remember the cowboy and Indian fights they had in their school days. That first circus also is a part of their knowledge, every former school child in the country. During the recent World war school children had a great time playing war. The greatest difficulty of the game however was in finding some one who would take the part of the Kaiser. The dispute had to be settled by drawing lots.

What is the most recent game among school children that is a part of the current events? A. G. Mead, county superintendent of schools, has made a discovery. It is the moonshine game. But here, as in the case of the Kaiser, the undesirable role is that of the sheriff, strange to say. This is especially true when the "bootleggers" and "moonshiners" clan together and make war upon the officer of the peace. The young people know how to imitate bootleggers. Having seen enough of it, and also that "the moon is not made of green cheese."

BADGER WEATHER LIKE CALIFORNIA, YOUTH SAYS

Robert A. Shepherd, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Shepherd, Pacificist, has arrived home from Hollywood, Calif., where he has been visiting his sister, Mrs. Karl Becker for the last few months. While there he made an acquaintance of four California brats and made also a lengthy trip in an airplane. During the greater part of his absence he attended a junior high school at Hollywood which has an enrollment of 1500 students. The weather, he said, differs very little from that which Wisconsin is now enjoying.

SANDY SOIL NEEDS LIME, TESTS SHOW

A number of soil surveys undertaken in the northern and western parts of the county show that in sandy soil nine cases out of ten is sour, according to Robert Amundsen, county agent. Mr. Amundsen pointed to a diagram he made of a farm in Maine showing the condition of the soil in various parts of the farm. It was typical of a good many farms in that part of the county. Acidity was especially evident in high sandy land, but not in soil adjacent to a creek. It is seldom that soil in lowlands is sour. The type of soil prevalent in these parts of the county is in need of lime to produce good crops of alfalfa. It will need about three to four tons ground limestone an acre to make it produce what it should. Mr. Amundsen said. Limestone grinding is done at Black Creek and New London.

TUNING IN ON RADIO

RADIO ENGINEER SUGGESTS WAY TO CUT INTERFERENCE

Small Inductance in Circuit Will Filter Out Undesirable Waves

BY C. W. HORN
Supt. Radio Operations, Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Co.

Those of us who have sensitive radio receiving sets know how sharply a distant broadcasting station tunes in. We know from experience how carefully we must adjust our sets to receive any particular station. A few divisions on the scale and it is lost. When a receiving set is located near a powerful broadcasting station, you are able to hear that nearby station over a considerable range of the dial because of what is known as "forced oscillations."

This can best be described by referring to that analogy so often used of a pond of water after a pebble has been thrown into it. Waves radiate from the center of disturbance. At some little distance from this center the waves are regular and travel smoothly, but right near where the stone struck the water, and particularly if it was a large one, you will notice a large number of irregular splashes.

Any device designed to be affected by the regular waves would also be troubled by the irregular splashes or waves as you may call them. It is the same thing in radio and the problem is to so arrange matters that these irregular splashes can be detected or so handled as not to interfere.

In your radio set you desire to pick up the tune of a station named "The Regular Wave" and weed out the irregular or forced oscillations. This may be done in several ways by devices called traps or filters. I will describe here a very simple one—something you easily can construct for yourself in a few minutes with simple apparatus usually used in radio.

Take pencil and paper and jot down the figures and diagram I am about to give you.

The circuit consists of an inductance and capacity either of which may be variable. It probably is simpler to use a variable capacity or condenser as it is usually called. This variable condenser may be of the twenty-three-plate type and can be purchased for a nominal sum in any store handling radio equipment if you should not obtain a small inductance of about twenty-five or thirty turns of small wire, any size in the neighborhood of 24 or 26 B and S gauge, or if you have a so-called honeycomb or spiderweb coil, so much the better.

This inductance, however easily can be made by winding about twenty-five or thirty turns of wire on a cardboard tube two or three inches in diameter. Caution! Do not wind on a metal tube.

Connect this inductance in series with the variable condenser and connect this combination across your receiving set between the antenna binding post and the ground binding post. This is so that energy from the antenna also can flow through the filter circuit, or as we have described "inductance and capacity" in series, through the ground as well as enter the receiving set. Make sure that there is no coupling between these two circuits and in order to prevent this keep the filter circuit several feet away from the receiving apparatus.

After having done all this, we are now ready to try it out. Turn up a local station by turning the dial until you hear a station in another station. That means you have set your dial at the point where the desired station can be heard, but it is being interfered with by the local station.

Now adjust the variable condenser of the filter circuit until the interference has been reduced to a minimum at the same time readjusting your receiving set so that the desired station comes in as strong as it is possible to make it. A little practice will soon enable you to obtain sharp tuning.

This device depends upon low losses in the filter, particularly in the condenser. Great care should be taken to make sure the variable condenser used is a "low loss" condenser. There are several good types manufactured.

This device will greatly unwanted frequencies off the antenna, but it will not weed out unwanted frequencies from the receiving set itself. The receiver should be well shielded in order to prevent it from picking up any considerable amount of energy without antenna connection.

VARIED PROGRAM IS OFFERED RADIOISTS

Every conceivable form of education and entertainment can be enjoyed from listening in on a radio receiving set. A review of programs planned by some of the larger broadcasting stations confirms this.

In a recent week these are some of the subjects covered by one broadcasting station out of the New York district:

New York Philharmonic concert, special religious "Chanukah Service" celebrating a Jewish holiday, travel lectures, a talk by William Jennings Bryan, quarter, duet and solo music, business talks, children's stories, readings, joint recitals farm, market and stock reports daily, sports events, fashion talks, time signals, weather forecasts daily, humor, and 450 dance music, church services and Bible classes every Sunday.

That is not all. Every now and

100 Miles Of Wire Between Studio, Station

A one-hundred-mile broadcast line will tie up the new Boston studio of Station WEEZ in Springfield with the station in Boston.

This line, which will be the longest span connecting studio and station in the country, has been specially designed for broadcasting, and will be used solely for that purpose. It will be built by the Western Union Company, on the poles of the Boston and Albany railroad right of way.

To eliminate line noises the wires will be transported at frequent intervals, and every precaution will be taken to make it a line as good as similar lines connecting studios and stations only a few miles away.

The Boston Studio will be located on the Brunswick Hotel and will be specially built for broadcasting. It will be acoustically as well as artistically perfect. As Boston is the acknowledged center of culture, as well as one of the best musical communities in the country, the location is ideal. The line from Springfield to Boston will also connect with a number of places in that city. The pick-up system around Boston will be elaborate as a telephone exchange.

This will give Station WEEZ the advantage of a varied program.

Although Station WEEZ has been heard in England, Cuba and on the Pacific coast, changes in the transmission apparatus are contemplated which will increase the range of the station still more.

All of these improvements will make of station WEEZ one of the best in the country, and increase its utility and value a hundred-fold.

SATURDAY PROGRAM
Central time throughout
Mary Garden, star of the Chicago Civic Opera company, will be a "star of the air" tonight. She will talk and sing from WMAQ at 7:50 o'clock. What she will talk about is not stated; she is scheduled to sing the following numbers: "La Serenata" by Tosti; "At Dawn" by Cadman; and "Parting" by Rogers. Miss Garden will be accompanied by Isaac Van Grove, pianist. The wave length is 345 meters.

7:55 to 8:00—WDAF (350) Chicago. Drake concert ensemble; Blackstone quintet.

10 to 2 a. m.—WJAZ (435) Artists. Mrs. Charles Ray, soprano; Mrs. George A. McGraw, contralto; Samuel Spencer, Roy Falch, tenors; Louis Brocheros, Orville orchestra.

7:50 p. m.—WMAQ (448) Mary Garden program to be announced.

8—WMAQ (448) Christmas program arranged by Mrs. J. C. Quisley.

8 to 8:30—KTW (530) Chicago. Artists: Mary Judah, soprano, Charles Birch and Ralph Wheeler, baritone; Emmy Kostal, reader.

8:35 to 9:50—WMAQ (448) Chicago Theatre review; organ orchestra and specialty numbers.

10 to 1 a. m.—WDAF (350) Vocal and instrumental numbers. Jack Chapman's dance orchestra.

Silent night for stations WLW, Cincinnati; WCKX and WWJ, Detroit; WLOS, Jefferson City.

7:15 to 10—WJZ (451), New York. Grand Charity concert of the Liederkrans society.

7:30 to 8:55—KDKA (324), Pittsburgh, Westinghouse land.

8:15—KDKA (324), Pittsburgh. Dinner concert by Westinghouse land.

8:30—WJAZ (435), Pittsburgh. Dinner concert from William Penn hotel.

8—WQAW (624), Omaha. Dinner concert.

REFLEX PRINCIPLE IN RADIO IS WORK OF U. S. ENGINEER

Germans Discovered Idea But American Brought It Into Common Use

New York—Germany may be credited with the original idea. But the war's intervention left it for an American to develop into what is considered one of the most important principles in the construction of the modern radio receiving set.

The American is William H. Pries, and the principle is that of "reflex" in radio reception, a name given by Pries himself. It is the method of reception by which one tube can be made to do the work of two or three in amplification.

More than ten years ago German scientists had been working on this system of reception. But very little was heard of it because radio then was not popular. During the war, when it was essential to combat radio activity, Pries was put on the job.

An important series of experiments resulted in his discovery of the system which he called "reflex."

Not only in its power but in its economy does Pries see the advantage of "reflex" in radio. But very little was heard of it because radio then was not popular. During the war, when it was essential to combat radio activity, Pries was put on the job.

"Reflex" has advantages that are of tremendous value to broadcast users, due to the economy in tubes that result in the correct application of its principle. The detector tube may be replaced by any type rectifier—for example, crystal—and the amplifier tubes may be made to do double or triple duty as amplifiers. The crystal means of changing radio currents to audio currents is and always better than a tube detector.

From the time peace was declared in 1918, Pries devoted his entire energy to the development of reflex. It is his belief reflex has not been approached by any set embracing the same number of tubes for the two characteristics of radio telephone reception: namely, sensitivity and distance.

DEAF CAN ENJOY MUSIC ON RADIO

New Pleasures For Unfortunates Made Possible By Great Invention

In the hurry and excitement of equipping millions of homes with radio sets, or the parts from which sets are made, few have paused to consider what this great invention means to those unfortunates who are hard of hearing.

Since the development of radio, many cases have been recorded where deafened persons have been able to hear music and voice through the sorphonous of radio sets. Annette W. Peck, secretary of the New York League for the Hard of Hearing, makes this distinction between the deaf and deafened. "The former are born without the sense of hearing. Radio cannot help them. But to the latter, radio is one of the greatest alleviations." She herself is an ardent radio fan with acquired deafness.

Paul B. Kluch, executive chairman of the National Association of Broadcasters, notes the following case: A man was afflicted with defective hearing. He had not heard a public lecture, musical or theatrical performance since the age of 10 years.

Then along came radio. He purchased a good receiving set, and now hears without difficulty the thing which he has craved for many years.

Warren Pond, president of the New York League for the Hard of Hearing, suffered from typhoid fever at the age of 15, and now has defective hearing. After listening in on a radio set for the first time, he purchased a more powerful set and now hears music clearly and without strain.

Since his experience, the league has installed a set, and by the use of multiple headsets has aided many deafened people to enjoy music for the first time.

Many unfortunates have been reported from many parts of the country, tending to show that radio is able to surmount the barriers of acquired deafness in a majority of cases.

New Record For Mail At Office Here

It is an old story that "this is the biggest Christmas season of all time." That is what is said each year and it is reiterated this year. But it is true. More outgoing mail will be handled at the local postoffice on Friday than on any previous day. It was more than three times the average day's mail.

The cancelling machine at postoffice registered more than 52,000 pieces of first class mail matter, which is about 1,000 more than the peak of last year's Christmas mail. It does not take into account first class mail of irregular size or parcel post.

Postmaster Zuehlke also estimates that the parcel post business was heavier than at any previous time. The peak of the incoming mail was expected to be reached Saturday.

Gratifying news was received from the United States postal department at Washington in response to a telegram from Postmaster Zuehlke in which $225 auxiliary allowance has been granted the local postoffice. This obviates the necessity of having the regular carriers working overtime during the Christmas rush, but gives Appleton patrons additional holiday service.

Honor Roll Of Good Fellows

This is the last day the Good Fellows club membership coupon will be printed in the Post-Crescent this year. Contributions to the Good Fellows fund, however, will be received until Monday evening. Money collected up to Monday noon will be distributed to the five cooperating charities in the afternoon and the remainder on Christmas day.

Slightly more than $1,000 had been paid into the club treasury up to noon today, leaving about $500 to make up the $1,500 which the five cooperating charities estimate will be required to provide for the city's needy families.

The remaining $500 can be collected if the persons who can afford to give to the poor will do their part. Clip the coupon on page 2 of today's paper and send it with your contribution to the Good Fellows club editor of the Post-Crescent.

FEWER VISITORS IN CITY FOR CHRISTMAS THAN FOR THREE YEARS

Indications are that there will be less holiday traveling this year than there has been for the last three years because there is but a single holiday for Christmas and New Years. For three years the Christmas holiday has meant at least two days and a half. Many more people felt it worth while and possible to make a Christmas visit to their homes or to friends or relatives when they could spend a little time after making the trip.

Many people who usually come to Appleton for the holidays will not be here this year. The lack of "regular Christmas weather" is given by some as the reason for many deciding not to make their usual trips.

GERMAN CAMPAIGN STARTS ON JAN. 2

Letters requesting banks to act as collection agencies for the campaign for relief of German children, which starts in this county on Jan. 2, 1924, were mailed by H. G. Corbett, secretary of the campaign committee. Final preparations for collecting the money and accounting for it will be made in a few days.

Through inadvertence, the names of several persons on the campaign committee were omitted when the list was published a few days ago. In addition to the names already announced, the following men are members of the committee:

B. J. Zuehlke, Gustave Keller, G. D. Ziegler, Otto Schafer, Albert Voecks, Herman Woeckert and Albert H. Krugmeier.

Pantry Not Found In House Plans

Modern Devices And Efficient Kitchens Leave Little Place For It

In old times the house without a pantry would have been as poor as a church without a steeple. Yet today the pantry does things quite unthought of in days gone by; sometimes it does not even figure in the architect's plans for the smaller house.

The reason for this change is threefold: First, space today is so valuable that the room occupied by a pantry is needed for other things; usually if there is an extra room it is the laundry; second, an extra serving place means extra work which signifies more servants; third, the manufacturer has so contrived to house the pantry materials in the smallest space, that, except in the larger house, the pantry is unnecessary.

So we see that although a house may have a well-equipped laundry, even a place wherein the lady of the house can take care of her flowers, the pantry, as the pantry, has not gone, but is swiftly giving up the throne to more democratic, utilitarian and important uses.

HAD ITS DAY

The pantry in other times boasted of its salad days with triumph. For it was here that the salad was prepared and the fine glass washed, because in the kitchen, early in the day, there was a time when kitchen sinks were more too lovely and safe. It was here in the pantry, too, that much of the fine china was housed, that the cocktails were mixed, etc. But now only the largest homes have refrigerated pantries, because, so well are the refrigerators made today, that if back up against the stove in the kitchen they would still make frigid the contrived spirituous supply, and so they are placed in the kitchen, or "off" it, in an alcove.

Not for a moment are we frowning down on the pantry; we like the pantry and would have one if space permitted and service was in right proportion. We are only going to give you our observations on this subject.

BREAKFAST ALCOVE TAKES ITS PLACE

The first thing that one notes in new small houses is the breakfast alcove. This is either in what looks like the pantry or in a part of the kitchen made a little larger to accommodate the alcove, which in early days would have housed the pantry, plus the sink and other expensive accessories.

This breakfast alcove is born of the lack of human space in the house. It saves trips back and forth for the lady of the house or the maid of all work. Here breakfast and lunch can be served with the minimum of peripatetics. Of course, were it not for the kitchen aids this breakfast alcove would be impossible.

For example, were it necessary to use the old style hideous iron sink, the hot and early types of coal stoves, the annoying and ugly old methods of cooking, breakfast and lunch in the kitchen alcove would be untempting and impossible. But now the white enamel tables and little white enamel benches which close up against the wall, as do the tables, too, in these little spaces there is much charm in the layout. With two or more electric outlets placed near the table, lunch and breakfast can be prepared without using the ugly stove, the cookery being accomplished with the electric percolator, the electric waffle iron, the electric grid and the electric table range.

Unless you have sufficient electric outlets for this breakfast alcove, you will not be getting the maximum comfort. For should you put more than two heating devices on the same wire you will surely have a blow-out or some such inconvenience.

Household Suggestions

KNITTED APPAREL

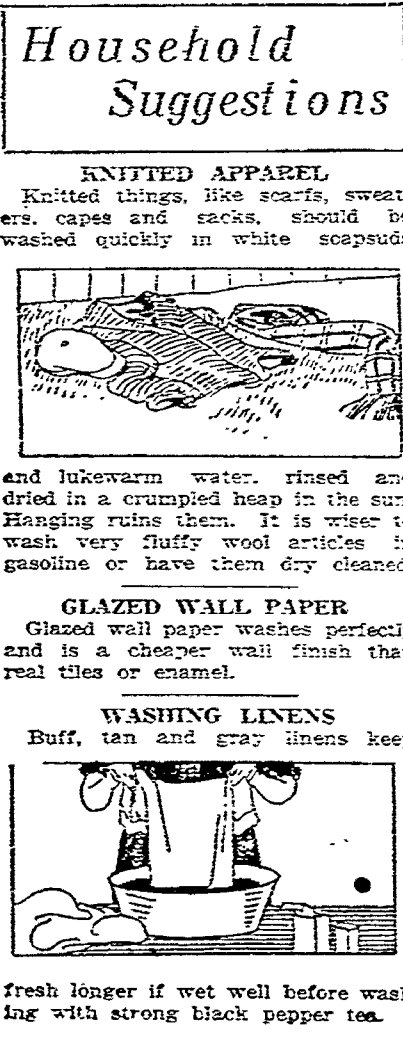

Knitted things, like scarfs, sweaters, capes and socks, should be washed quickly in white soap suds.

GLAZED WALL PAPER

Glazed wall paper washes perfectly and is a cheaper wall finish than real tiles or enamel.

WASHING LINENS

Buff, tan and gray linens keep fresh longer if wet well before washing with strong black pepper tea.

No. 2—Choosing East Wind and Building the Wall

Chinese formality marks the opening of the game. The 144 tiles are turned face down upon the table.

The comes the determination of East Wind, the key or chief position. This is done by one throw of the dice all around, he who throws highest becoming the East.

Then the tiles are shuffled thoroughly. The other three winds have been automatically established by the determination of the East Wind. South.

always being next on the right of East. West on South's right and North on West's right.

Notice that relative positions of the compass points are opposite to American compass points. This is because the Chinaman looks up and through everything, including the world.

EAST WIND IS CHIEF

East Wind, as I have said, is the chief of the game, somewhat akin to the "banker" in accidental games. When he wins, he wins double; when he loses, he loses double. However, every player, unless he ties another player, pays or collects from all other players.

Some Don'ts Which Will Avoid Christmas Fires

BY JOHN PLANT
Chief Engineer of Chicago Fire Prevention Bureau

Don't decorate your tree with paper, cotton or other inflammable material. Use metallic tinsel and other impregnated decorations. Set the tree securely so it cannot be tipped over.

Don't use cotton to imitate snow. Use powdered mica or asbestos fiber.

Don't permit children to light or relight candles while parents are not present. Use electrical illumination for the tree if possible.

Don't allow trees to remain inside buildings after the holidays. Many fires occur in January from this cause.

Don't merely depend on having a bucket of water about while the Christmas tree is lighted. Equip yourself with a 1-gallon water pump or one of the good chemical extinguishers available at reasonable prices.

Don't give your children moving picture machines with celluloid, non-impregnated film. Fires from film at Christmas time are becoming more frequent.

Don't let children hang their stockings too near an open burning grate or stove.

Don't take a chance. Christmas season last year caused property damage from fires running close to $100,000,000.

LIGHT REFRESHMENTS

Nearly every housekeeper likes to "keep open house" during the holidays. This is specially true when there are "youngsters" home from boarding school and college.

The "tea" need not be elaborate or lavish, but if the coffee crock is full and the bread box running over young appetites can be satisfied at a minute's notice.

An unusual hot drink served with little cakes and sandwiches in the evening is sure to be liked.

This hot punch is easy to make, but spicy and so good.

HOT PUNCH

Four lemons, 1/2 teaspoon each cinnamon and nutmeg, 1-1/2 teaspoon cloves, 1 glass or 1/2 cup raspberry jelly, 2 oranges, 6 cups grape juice, 2 cups hot water.

Squeeze juice from lemons. Add sugar, spices and oranges cut in thin slices. Let stand in a warm place for two hours. Heat grape juice, add hot water and jelly and pour over first mixture. Cover and let stand five minutes. Serve at once.

Very often after opening a can of pineapples there seems to be nothing to do with the juice. This drink uses the juice in a delicious fashion.

HOT PINEAPPLE PUNCH

Two cups strong tea, 1/2 to 3/4 cup pineapple juice, 3/4 cup orange juice, 1/2 cups boiling water, 2 cups sugar.

Make a syrup of the sugar and boiling water. Add the tea, freshly made and hot, the fruit juices and more hot water if necessary to give the desired strength and sweetness. Serve hot with maraschino cherries. Walnut cookies are very easily made and sure to be liked.

WALNUT COOKIES

Two cups light brown sugar, 1 1/2 cups butter and lard mixed, 3 eggs, 3 cups flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon soda, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1 1/2 cups broken walnut meats, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Cream shortening and sugar, add one cup sifted flour and beat well.

Health Comes To Those Who Keep 'Heads Up'

To stand correctly, place the feet about six inches apart, with their middle lines parallel, toes pointing straight ahead. A good way to get the proper vertical line is to stand with your back and heels against the side of the wall and then lean forward about three or four inches. The chest should be well out, as if pushing some object in front of it, the head erect, abdomen flat, neck well up and perpendicular, and arms hanging loosely on the middle lines of the hips. You will now have the whole body in the proper position with relation to the natural center of gravity, facing the weight of the body on the balls of the feet and not the heels.

Keep your head up! "Heads up" is a symbol for alertness in sports, for the person who carries his head in this manner usually is mentally and physically in better condition than the one who allows it to droop. It actually increases your self-respect and confidence to throw back your shoulders and straighten your neck so your chin will be in line with a person whose head is constantly allowed to sag and I will show you a person who isn't well. It is a sure sign that there is something the matter with the muscles or nerves.

In sitting, push the lower spine well back in the chair and lean back so that the body will be in the position given for correct posture in standing. Keep the chest out and the abdomen in. Do not permit the chest to sink and the abdomen to come up and meet it; they should be as far apart as possible.

The feet should point straight ahead in walking—that is to say, their inner side should be parallel to and touch an imaginary line marking the direction of progress. It is better to be slightly pigeon-toed than to toe out. There was once a big-league baseball manager who always used to ask of a "scout" who had discovered a promising young player: "Does he toe in?" If the answer was in the affirmative, the manager would make further inquiries, but if the negative, he immediately lost interest. He probably got this idea from watching Napoleon Lajoie, who was then the star of the American league, walk. Lajoie was one of the most graceful men I have ever seen. His movements were so smooth and easy that he just seemed to flow from one place to another instead of walking or running. And he distinctly toed in.

Primitive men who habitually go barefoot always have springy, easy gaits and are able to travel great distances without fatigue. Put a pair of stylish shoes on one of them, however, and he would soon be reduced to the untrained white man's low level of endurance in walking.—From the Delineator.

material to be stamped and place over the finished pattern. Rub very hard with a silver spoon and the design will appear on the new cloth. If you have torn your dark woolen dress, put parts well in place and hold together with black court plaster pasted on the wrong side of the dress. Use white for light material. LETTER FROM LESLIE PRES-COTT TO ALICE HAMILTON

DEAR LITTLE SISTER:

I have been intending to write to you for the last few days but after one has been ill quite a time things get at sixes and sevens if you are the one who has been running the house.

There is so much I want to say to you, dear, that I don't know where to begin. I wonder if you appreciate what a wonderful time you are having, practically doing just what you please. When mother let me go abroad I went with a whole lot of other girls and we had two old maid school teachers who kept strict watch over us. One always went ahead in the Louvre and came back to explain that we couldn't go into certain rooms for fear we would see the nudes.

And here you are, over in Paris, doing anywhere you please. Although you haven't told me I have a hunch that you have been pleased to go to Montmartre and all through the Latin Quarter with only a very lonely young man to pilot you and Bette around.

Alice, dear, I note what you say about Karl's being more intellectual and having more heart and more money than Jack, consequently you wondered why I loved Jack. Although I do not assent to any of your contentions, yet if they were all true I would probably be loving Jack just the same.

One thing you haven't learned yet, little sister, which is probably because you have never been in love. When you do fall in love you will understand people do not love other people because they are intellectual; because they are brilliant; because they are handsome or because they are even kind. You just fall in love. That's all, my dear.

Sometimes I think the old philosophic idea of Empedocles, of "natural love," by which he means those sympathies which attract a stone to the earth and make rivers flow to the sea, can be applied to men and women. Two people just naturally gravitate to each other.

You may go on and on for a long time. People may think they love
you. You may think you love others.
Because some chemical force in you seeks to unite with some chemical force in another, you may think you are in love, but you soon find out in reality is that force attractive enough to overcome certain thoughts and idiosyncrasies and the thrill dies.

All at once two people meet. Every force within one seeks and unites with the similar force in the other.
At last you know love.

These two persons need not even be of the same tastes. They may dislike each other very much, still they will be what people generally call "in love with each other."

It is a queer sort of feeling, my dear. Sometimes a man or woman never attains real love. They accept substitutes. It is very probable if I had not met Jack I would never have known the love I felt for Karl.
I was taken directly off my feet. And now that I have my little home, my husband and my baby, I am afraid it is all too good to be true. Honestly, Alice, I wake up in the middle of the night my heart going phatap, and I seem to be waiting for something to enter into my Eden and lay it waste. I have been and am so happy.

TOMORROW — The letter continues—those "imitation" pearls again.

Adventures Of The Twins

Three Greedy Pigs

Piggy Wig Pig and Saurer Snout Pig and Twisty Tail Pig were all lying side by side in cool, muddy puddles in Sprucey-Moo Land.

They looked like three sausages that had been stuffed too tight and were ready to burst if you touched them.

Piggy Wig Pig was black. Saurer Snout Pig was white and Twisty Tail Pig was black and white, but just now they were brown all over, the three of them, for they had rolled in the mud and dried off and they were right to behold.

"Let's talk about something to eat," said Piggy Wig Pig.

"Yes, let's," agreed the others.

But to Nancy and Nick and Mister Dodger, the fairy man, on the other side of the fence, it just sounded as though one pig was grunting, another squealing and another snoring such funny noises they made when they talked.

"I like butter-milk with corn cobs floating in it," said Piggy Wig Pig, smacking his lips.

"And I like the days they have apple pie!" said Saurer Snout. "Then I'll dump all the apple peelings and apple cores into the trough, Tom!"

"Oh, I like anything," declared Twisty Tail. "I'm not particular. Cakes' good, though, I like that!"

Now, I didn't tell you that there was another little pig in the field but there was. A nice, clean little red fellow, who wasn't very fat, or very big, or very curly-haired, but wasn't and he wasn't dirty at all. But he was very hungry.

Farmer Brown had bought him from a neighbor, and he felt very lonely and forlorn, for the other pigs wouldn't look at him at all.

Just then there was a loud bumping noise and a pig came running in the trough.

"It was Farmer Brown emptying the trough into the trough at the piggery."

"Instantly there was a screaming, and off started the four pigs for their luncheon."

"Get out!" squealed Piggy Wig Pig at the stranger.

"Wait till we're through," grunted Saurer Snout over his fat shoulder.

"We'll give you what's left," called Twisty Tail.

That's the way it always was. No wonder poor Reddy Pig was so thin and hungry. For there never was anything left!

But suddenly something happened. Nancy grabbed one greedy pig by his hind foot, and Nick grabbed another and Mister Dodger grabbed the third.

"Go on, Reddy, and eat your fill!" cried the fairy man.

Which he did without any coaxing. There was never any more trouble after that, for the pigs all promised to be good.

ZWICK-MEISSNER GO DRAWS STATE-WIDE ATTENTION

New Years Day Boxing Card Promises To Draw Record Gate To Armory

Charles Higgins, Handler Of National Repute, Will Be In Corner Of Menominee Champ

Armory G promises to be crowded to capacity when Jack Zwick and Archie Meissner clash in the main go of the New Year's Day fight card here. The Zwick-Meissner battle is kicking up quite a fuss throughout the state. Many fans from Milwaukee are planning to motor here to see it. Green Bay will send a large delegation, and George Duffy, formerly of Milwaukee and a well known referee now located at Marinette has requested the reservation of a large block of ringside seats. An entire section of the hall will be reserved for Kaukauna fans, who plan to accompany their favorite, "Washie" Hendricks, in droves.

The main bout is attracting as much attention as a Jung-Zwick bout ever could, and there is more importance attached to Meissner's fracas with the Sheik than if the latter were fighting Jabber. W. J. Smith, Milwaukee, manager of State Champ Meissner, has secured Charles Higgins to handle him in his corner. Higgins has a national reputation as a handler, and just now is associated with Pinkie Mitchell. Formerly he handled Jimmy Wilde and Freddy Walsh. The fact that Smith is going to the trouble and effort of securing such a man, shows what great importance he attaches to the fight.

FANS EAGER FOR CLASH
This battle has been so long in the making, that the fans are extremely eager to see the welterweights clash. Both are among the best drawing cards of the state. When Zwick fought last in Green Bay, hundreds were turned away from the doors, as the fire chief refused to permit the hall to be jammed further. Both Menominee and Marinette have halls as large as this city's, and yet a large crowd is always refused admission when Meissner appears on the card. No fight in recent years here has had the fans huzzing as excitedly as this one, and indications are that the rush for tickets will establish a record here.

Seats will be placed on sale at once. The chairs have been arranged to accommodate the largest possible crowd, but it will be a good plan to get yours early, for out of town fans already have reserved large numbers.

HILBERT BOWLERS HUMBLE OLYMPICS

Olympic Alley team of Appleton Friday journeyed to Hilbert where Bill Groth's pinbusters dropped three straight games to the Hilbert Specials. The Olympics rolled a good match but the Hilbert five was going too strong for them, and easily walked away with the match, 6-15 to 2-91. Koller, star of the Specials, rolled a high score of 575. Bill Groth followed with 557 for second place, and S. Frapp, his teammate was third with 535. Bunert and Schwartz of Hilbert followed closely with 534.

ROCKNE, HENDERSON HEAD COACH SCHOOL

By Associated Press
Los Angeles, Calif.—Knute Rockne, football coach at Notre Dame and Elmer Henderson, University of Southern California mentor, will be in charge of a summer school for coaches to be conducted in 1924 at the University of Southern California. It was announced at that institution Friday. The course will be of six weeks duration and will embrace football strategy and play.

Hilbert Girl Claims State Kegel Record

Lorraine Jantz of Hilbert Friday evening rolled 663 for the highest 3 game score made by any woman of the state, so far as is known. The previous record for a woman was claimed by a Janesville bowler who had rolled 645. Lorraine smashed 201 pins in her first game, 219 in the second and rolled to 243 in the third for her total of 663.

This score was higher than most of the totals rolled by men of this neighborhood, and if the fair keglers can keep it up she should soon rank with the national champions.

YALE STAR GOES BLIND AS RESULT OF MINE MISHAP

Premature Explosion Deprives Mining Engineer Of His Sight

PERRY HALE, one of the great football backs ever turned out at Yale, has gone blind.
The name of Perry Hale will bring back to the followers of football the memory of Gordon Brown's great team of 1900. That Yale team beat Princeton 29-5 and the following week beat Harvard 28-0.
After graduating from Yale, Hale spent three years as coach at Ohio State University and Phillips Exeter Academy.
Hale then took up his profession as a mining engineer. He was meeting with similar success to that which crowned his efforts on the gridiron.
While going over one of his big jobs, a premature explosion caused permanent blindness. Every effort to restore his lost sight has failed.
Hale, after years spent in the depths of despair, has finally become resigned to his fate and is once again the smiling Perry Hale of other days.
Hale lives at Portland, Conn. Recently he took a flier in politics and was elected tax collector of that town.

PIPER GOES START

BADGER COEDS START MAGAZINE OF SPORTS

By Associated Press
Madison—The first issue of a magazine devoted to athletics among college women, called the "Physical Education Club Bulletin," has made its appearance at the University of Wisconsin. The magazine is issued by students and teachers in the women's physical training department of the university. It is said to be one of the first publications issued at any university in the nation.
The magazine will be issued three times a year. The initial issue includes news of athletic activities at the university, and articles on physical education by members of the department.
Princeton, N. J.—William W. Roper announced that he would retire as coach of the Princeton football team at the close of the 1924 season.

JACK WILL AID STRIBLING FOR BOUT WITH ROSENBERG

New York—Young Stribling, Georgia schoolboy, light heavyweight, who is matched with Dave Rosenberg, Brooklyn at Newark, New Year's day, expected to work out with Jack Dempsey, heavyweight titleholder, prior to the bout. Stribling will arrive prior to week to complete his training at Freddy Welsh's health farm at Summit, N. J., where Dempsey also has established quarters.

Urban Shocker In Big Demand By Rival Clubs

Five clubs in the American League are said to be anxious to make a trade for Pitcher Urban Shocker of the St. Louis Browns.
According to reports, only Chicago and Detroit have failed to make some sort of a proposition to the Browns. However, it's a cliché that neither Cobb nor Chance would object to taking over the St. Louis star.
Shocker has never been successful against the Detroit club. The Tigers have always taken all kinds of liberties with his delivery. Perhaps that is one reason why Manager Cobb hasn't come to the front with an offer for Shocker.
Shocker is a great pitcher, perhaps the brainiest twirler in the American League. There is thought lack of every ball he pitches. That is why he is so hard to beat. Incidentally he is a glutton for work and shines as a relief pitcher.
If he is traded by St. Louis the club that gets him will have added much strength to its pitching staff.
New York—Ad Stone of Philadelphia outpointed Billy Shade of California in a 12 round bout, according to the judges' decision.

Spalla Seeks Jack's Crown

Showing Ermino Spalla, heavyweight champion of Italy, who is now on his way to this country to hurl a fat and nasty deal at the well-shod feet of Jack Dempsey. The good senior is depicted herewith in the act of missing a completely inflated punching bag with a rather ponderous left hand. It will be noted that he has a serious expression and wears his sweater in a manner befitting one paucitiously inclined. What other fistic attributes he may possess are not visible to the naked eye.

APPLETON STARS TAKE 2 GAMES ON VALLEY CUE CARD

Liethen And Drexler Defeat Neenah And Kaukauna Teams In Tourney

Appleton Thursday defeated Little Chute, 100 to 88, in the third game of the Fox River Valley league pocket billiard tournament at the Carr and Hanson parlors here, and thus made the Dutchmen its third straight victory. Liethen and Drexler, representatives of the Appleton team shot wonderful pool in a whirlwind finish. With the score 78 to 54 in Little Chute's favor, the Appleton men made a spur which gave them the game by a considerable margin. Drexler ran 17 balls early in the game, and a little later Liethen followed with a run of 14. When Appleton had overtaken Vanderson and Hartjes near the end of the game and needed 16 points to win, Drexler proved equal to the occasion and dropped 13 balls into the pockets in succession. Liethen finished by sinking the remaining three.
Earlier in the week the Appleton men journeyed to Neenah, where they humbled Zinn and Madison, 100 to 72. Neenah took a lead of 57 to 27, but was unable to hold it. Drexler regained his stroke at this time and shot a brilliant game for the rest of the block. Drexler made two thirds of the points for his team. Liethen being slightly off his stroke.

WHITE SOX STAR LIKES TO WATCH GRID CONTEST

Eddie Collins, star second-sacker of the Chicago White Sox, who lives in the east, doesn't miss a big football game after the close of the baseball season. Collins, who is a graduate of Columbia, and played quarterback on the varsity, admits that as a collegian he much preferred the gridiron sport to the diamond.
It is rumored that Mike, the demon whirler, is having a supply of these animated oysters sent Mike has only two hands, which he needs to operate his machine, while he isn't eating and trained oysters will give him a chance to feed his face to his heart's content.

SPORT VIEWS AND NEWS

The big league ball players, who are cavorting down in Cuba, may not find it such a profitable winter after all by the time Judge Landis gets through with them. A number of the stars went to the island after the cupboards closed shop and they have been collecting money to keep their Cuban diamond magnates. It is said that Judge Landis has started an inquiry into conditions and he may stop on a few lines that will melt away the winter profits.

U. S. PUCK CHASERS EXPECT WAR WITH ONTARIO MAGNATES

Hockey Association Disapproves Migration Of Canuck Players

Pittsburg—Migration of hockey players from Canada to the United States officially "disapproved" by the Ontario Hockey association, Friday night, brought the statement from W. S. Haddock, president of the United States Amateur Hockey association, that "we will under no circumstances allow the slightest interference in American hockey matters."
Pressure has been brought to bear upon the United States association to "absolutely ignore the Canadian hockey authorities." President Haddock declared, adding that "if they are not satisfied with the manner in which hockey is conducted in the United States, unpleasant as it would be to us, we would simply have to let them go their way and we would go ours."
No notification of the proposed conference between the United States and Canadian hockey officials at Niagara Falls, Ontario, on Jan. 2, succeeded by the Ontario league, has been received. Haddock said, but when the migration is forthcoming, "we will decide whether we shall attend."
Commenting on the order of the Ontario association forbidding its clubs from taking part in exhibition games with teams of the United States association, Haddock stated that "we have been importuned frequently to bar Canadian teams from coming into the United States for exhibition purposes because of the fact that they frequently make contracts with our teams and then send a patched up aggregation."
The question of migration, he declared, also affected teams in the United States. "Discipline might start with some of their clubs which take players from American teams; for instance Mike and Drexler of Pittsburg," President Haddock concluded.

APPLETON BILLIARD STARS BEAT NEENAH

LaFond and Merkel, representing Recreation hall billiards parlors of Appleton, Friday night defeated Neenah and Rausch of Neenah, 100 to 98, in one of the closest pocket billiard matches played at the Neenah Arcade parlors in years.
The result of the game was in doubt up to the final shot. Neither team had been able to gain an advantage worth mentioning up to the last few shots, and excitement among the spectators reached a high pitch.
Several Appleton fans who accompanied the local team report that LaFond and Merkel shot one of the best games of their careers.

NEENAH DEMANDS BUSSES COMPLY WITH ORDINANCE

Council Orders Police To Arrest
Drivers Who Violate City Order

The wholesale arrest of all bus drivers who violate the Neenah bus ordinance was ordered by the Neenah common council at its meeting this week and its police department has been notified to proceed with carrying out the order.

Jake Skall, driver of one of the Tri-City Transportation company buses operating between Appleton and Neenah, was arrested last Saturday for violating the schedule fixed by the council. On Wednesday afternoon he was fined $25 and costs by the justice of the peace. Skall appealed the case, however, and the trial will be in municipal court at Oshkosh early in January. It is charged that Skall left Neenah within five minutes of the interurban cars, although the Neenah ordinance forbids leaving within ten minutes of the interurban schedule.

The old bus schedule gave the time of departure for Appleton at 20 minutes to the hour and ten minutes after the hour, while the interurban cars left on the hour and half hour. The interurban schedule of half hour allows the cars to leave Neenah at 15 minutes to the hour and 15 minutes after the hour. The order of the council requires the bus line to again change its schedule so that buses will not leave within 10 minutes of the time for the departure of street cars.

A. C. Homan, proprietor of the line, is said to have informed Mayor Demers of Neenah that he could not operate on the hour and half hour because of delays necessitated by muddy streets and crowded buses. Aldermen protested against the attitude of Mr. Homan and maintained it was an insult to the council.

Buses now arrive in Appleton earlier than usual, but wait longer at their parking place before leaving. The wait formerly was about 5 minutes and now usually is fifteen minutes.

FOUR GIRLS PICKED IN DEBATE TRYOUTS

Four girls were selected with eight boys in the debate tryouts at Appleton high school on Friday afternoon. These 12 students will do the preliminary work and six will be chosen to represent the school. Each of those chosen has an equal chance for the team and his work between now and the final choosing will determine whether he will get on the squads.

The girls in the tryouts include Beatrice and Eunice Segal, Ethel Blake and Erna Gosse. The boys are Maurice Lewis, Harold Zuehlke, Herman Brockhaus, Carl Engler, Kenneth St. Claire, Carl Thompson, Robert Joyce and Ward Wheeler.

MORY GIVES ICE CREAM TO CITY'S POOR FAMILIES

Mory Ice Cream Co. has offered to supply ice cream to the poor of the city on Thanksgiving day. Arrangements were made with the Appleton Welfare council to include coupons, good for ice cream if presented at the company's plant, in every basket that is sent out. The five cooperating charities, working through the welfare council, will determine the amount of ice cream required by the families for their Christmas dinners.

ARREST LADYSMITH MAN FOR GILLINGHAM ROBBERY

The robbery committed at the store at Gillingham's Corners several weeks ago, it is expected by Winnebago-co authorities, will be cleared up soon, following the arrest of Clifford McAllister of Ladysmith. His preliminary examination at Oshkosh has been set for Wednesday, Dec. 26. The arrest was made on the basis of a confession made by Henry Miller, Oshkosh boy bandit, who is said to be McAllister's pal and accomplice. McAllister's description fits in a way with that given by Mrs. Belle Gillingham at the time of the holdup. Miller has been identified as one of the pair who committed the robbery.
